JUDY COBB, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF,
CAROL COE, ASSOCIATE EDITOR

This book is a story, an essay, an expostulation—it is a collage of word, caption, and photograph. Its purpose is to preserve, to record, to reflect and to freeze a life—that of a university.

the image of a university

Such reflection cannot be wholly physical, for the university is more than its facilities, it is its people, and through them, its spirit. The university is not simply a collection of buildings, it is a collection of people, as was so long ago proved in Europe. It is not a school, but a community, a magnificently diverse one, but with a goal; culture and education.

Culture to be obtained in many ways—vicariously through the masterpieces of visual and literary art—or first person through personal contact and the interaction of personalities—student to professor, friend to friend, boy to girl. Culture to mature and enlarge this university community and thus a culture to enlarge and modify itself—progress.

her people are diverse

Culture that offers and makes possible education, for what is education but the summarization of the facts and figures, creative efforts, talents, and techniques that mutually have created and increased a particular culture?

The university is its showcase and yet its birthplace. Here is the human mind in ferment, and here is the human mind preserved for all to see. It is the cemetery of the past and the maternity ward of the future.

It is a setting that shines by day and sparkles by night. The key to the showcase is spirit, a spirit of youth and freedom, of leisure, work, enjoyment and often despair; but still spirit. And the showcase unlocked yields a cascade of gems—memories and experiences—some formed, many in metamorphosis. Yet the showcase is not for the university or the university community alone, but for the society that has produced it.

The rain streaks its surface and the sun makes it sparkle; it soars toward intellectual freedom and is yet a prisoner of the temporal world, its loves, hates, prejudices and follies.

The university is a laboratory in living. Here one gets a rare second chance in preparation for the future. It is the clash of personalities, the clash of minds, the harmony of purpose and the harmony of spirit that make it a success.

her past—distinguished

The staccato clicking of syncopated forks in the Tiger Lair or the soundless waltz of a coed on her way to class may remain, long after the square root of pi has fled. Yet these are valuable things that can never come from a book, but only from a university. This transferal and interaction of human beings makes its physical plant valuable.

The monotone of a lecture, the hushed scribbling of a test, the thoughtful turning of pages must all have their places, and hold their own, for they are the signs of study—the alleged purpose of the university, and the armature on which its tremendous variety of actual functions are supported.

A university's people are its primary assets. It is the fascinating blend of French, Spanish, Creole, and Anglo-Saxon that gives both L.S.U. and the state its special flavor—one of a lost romanticism, of day-dreams, ideals, and progressivism—of drive and remembrance that is unique.

People do interesting things. The artist, the intellectual, the individualist, and those well-known conformists, Joe College and Betty Coed mix in a melee that sends facts, rumors, news, gossip, congratulations, and scandal flying over the Old War Skule. Shaved heads, beanie caps, and the Pajama Game that all freshmen must endure are signs of their activity. Clocks in the fraternity houses ticking away the quiet hours before homecoming and the roar of the crowd as the Tigers do in Ole Miss of Go-to-Hell fame are all images of the campus.

In the same vein is the tower soaring into the sky and singing out its melodies during the day, alive with light and booming out the hours by night—lending its sonorous accompaniment to the studious, the Greek initiation, the sleeping campus, the Reveille editor up all night and the GUMBO staff rushing to meet a publisher's deadline.

Mike-the-Tiger dozing in the sun, his tail twitching; or roaring at the game, his tail flailing is the living symbol and mentor of L.S.U. From the loneliness and grandeur of his cage, he is the master of all he surveys—the stadium, the track and the Campus Security office.

Yet all activity is subject to modification by greater powers. Limbs cracking in Hurricane Hilda and grass rippling in the breeze from the river are its omens. The river itself, fog-shrouded and sinister, or sunlit and smiling—cold, silent, relentless, moving from land to sea, replenishing the earth with its sediments and threatening with its floods in the background. Here on its banks is L.S.U.

It is a product of its environment—the land, the times, and the people. Article 136 of the state constitution of 1812 provided for the establishment of a “seminary of learning,” but this interesting detail was not acted on until 1852. In that year the Louisiana State Legislature passed act 216, locating such a future school in Rapides Parish within a four-mile radius of Alexandria, on the north side of the Red River. The following legislative session of 1853 saw the endorsement of Act 72 on March 31, which approved a site of 438 acres in the present Pineville area, of which “the cost . . . shall not exceed the sum of $3,190.”

her present—dynamic

In 1857 a Board of Visitors was organized and less than a year later was renamed the Board of Supervisors. Among its first acts was the election of William Tecumseh Sherman (of Sherman’s March through Georgia fame), and army resignee practicing law in Kansas, as head of the crystalizing institution.

Infant L.S.U., the "Louisiana State Seminary" was completed on paper in 1859, at which time a contract for construction of the main building was let to Benjamin Cooper of Kentucky. Mr. Cooper brought his own slaves to the site to manufacture bricks, cut timber, and erect the structure.

Sherman collected his faculty in December of 1859 and opened his doors January 2, 1860, to a first class of 73 cadets.

Freshman hazing began the same month when a new cadet was forced to mount guard with a broomstick "Rifle" on a conspicuous gallery. This action led to the prompt dismissal of the establishment's first First Sergeant.

Fire ravaged the grounds in 1869, after which the seat of the school was moved to Baton Rouge. There residence was taken up in the present State School for the Deaf, and the name was changed to Louisiana State University. As spatial her progress—unlimited

needs increased, L.S.U. moved to the famed Pentagon, near the present capitol. Outgrowing this site, final accommodations were made available at its current location. In 1925 the last move was made to the Gartness Plantation, south of Baton Rouge, purchased through a special bond issue and severance tax.

she is our way of life

L.S.U. reached national prominence in the 1930's when Governor Huey Long took great interest in the football team, and to support it, recruited the nation's largest school band. His rather Machiavellian methods of financing the school, plus the phenomenal student attendance at athletic events catapulted L.S.U. into nation-wide attention. Naturally this resulted in increased enrollment, and to the expansion of the University to its present size.

This in brief is the hows and whys of Louisiana State University. The following is the history of the school year 1964-1965.

Von Sandifer, a junior from Covington, Louisiana, reigned as Queen of the 1964 Homecoming festivities, October 24. The presentation of the Queen and her court—Sister Etheridge of Greenville, Miss., and Linda Gayle Hindman of Springhill—took place at halftime ceremonies during the LSU-Tennessee game, and was witnessed by a capacity crowd and a nationwide television audience. Joe Morris Doss, SGA president, escorted Miss Sandifer across the field to the traditional Tiger Rug on which she was crowned by John A. Hunter, president of the University. Mrs. Janie Parks Pillow, 1963 Homecoming Queen, presented her with a dozen red roses.

The Homecoming Queen was elected by the student body from the three members of the Court, selected by the varsity football team from nominees of all campus organizations.

Miss Sandifer, an LSU cheerleader, is a junior, majoring in health and physical recreation, a member of Pi Beta Phi social sorority, and commander of Angel Flight.

Miss Etheridge, a senior secondary Education major, is a member of Kappa Delta social sorority and Miss Hindman, a senior majoring in Elementary Education, is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority.

Leaders and guides, some with the exuberance of youth, some with the dignity of age, introduce the student to Louisiana State University—its educational facilities and many specialized services.

Yet still others must supervise. Theirs is the task of drafting administrative policy, setting goals, strengthening the standards and maintaining the university. The administration, together with the faculty and student body, form the grand triumvirate of the modern university. It is the administration which is responsible for efficiency and effectiveness as the faculty and students become involved in scholarly pursuits. It is the ultimate purpose of both the student and adult administrators to maintain and improve L. S. U.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The tremendous responsibility of the Board of Supervisors to the University is even more accentuated now that LSU enrollment has exceeded the fifteen thousand mark. As the main policy making body of the University, the Board initiates programs which are then executed by the administration.

The fourteen members of the Board, prominent citizens of Louisiana and alumni of LSU, are appointed by the Governor for a seven year term, and the Governor serves on the Board as an ex-officio member.

The Board is concerned with the task of physically enlarging the University to accommodate the unprecedented rise in student enrollment. It must also continually strengthen the University academically by providing a well-qualified faculty, a dynamic research program, first class laboratories, classrooms, residential accommodations, and sufficient funds to make Louisiana State University a great institution of higher learning.

Dr. John A. Hunter
President

Dr. and Mrs. Hunter

PRESIDENT JOHN A. HUNTER

To The Students:

I want to take this opportunity to congratulate each of you for having completed successfully another academic year at LSU.

A meaningful education, of course, cannot be acquired in a single year at this or any other institution. Nevertheless, your completion of this academic term represents another significant milestone in your quest to become truly educated men and women.

For some of you the year 1964-65 will mark the termination of your formal classroom education. For others among you it will serve as a necessary stepping stone to additional years of academic pursuit.

But for all of you, from freshman to graduate student, the 1964-65 academic term can serve, even in retrospect, as a banner year, a year when you recognized the intrinsic worth of education, a time when you discovered that an educated mind is the most valuable individual possession in a world of change.

Preserved on these pages is a pictorial record of the past year. I hope that it will serve as a continuing reminder of LSU and you—a reminder of challenges accepted, of friendships established, of achievements recorded and of honors won.

ALUMNI FEDERATION

The LSU Alumni Federation is the official organization for all alumni and former students of the University. It is composed of affiliate alumni groups, organized on both academic and geographic lines. The central purpose of the Federation is to channel the interest, loyalty and efforts of the thousands of LSU alumni into a program of unified assistance to the University.

Each graduate of the University is provided a two-year membership in the Federation, dating from graduation day. Membership after that period is maintained by an annual contribution to the LSU Alumni Fund.

The major programs of the Alumni Federation include: high school relations, governmental relations, information and publication programs and private financial assistance to the University.

Meetings are held annually throughout the nation. The Federation also sponsors special events on the campus during the school year, including Homecoming and Spring Alumni Weekend. The Federation is headquartered at The Alumni House, at the corner of Highland Road and Semmes Drive. Alumni are welcome to make the Alumni House their campus headquarters when they are in Baton Rouge.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Joe Doss
President

Each LSU student has a voice in University affairs; this voice is the Student Government Association. The purposes of the SGA are to provide a laboratory of experience for students in self-government and in participation in general community affairs of the University; to provide students with the opportunity to direct activities of their own in an orderly and direct manner, and to encourage the practice of responsible citizenship.

The three branches of SGA, executive, legislative, and judiciary, constantly are striving in their particular areas to make campus life better for the individual. The SGA executive officers, president, vice-president, and coed vice-president, are elected annually by popular vote and serve for one year from the time of their election. These students are responsible for directing the affairs of the student body in such a way as to reflect the desires of individual students in the college community.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council serves as the legislative branch of the Student Government Association. It makes recommendations to the University administration and acts as an intermediary between the administration and the students. Another of its many duties is the approval of the budgets of the Associated Women Students and the Men's Residence Halls Association. The Council originates special projects for the improvement of SGA and the University and coordinates the activities of the SGA standing committees. It is also concerned with the general welfare of the other organizations on campus.

Each of the schools and colleges of the University is represented in the Student Council by its president and by elected representatives. The vice president of the SGA is the presiding officer at the meeting, and the coed vice president is a member of the Council. From its own membership the Council selects representatives to the Morale Commission, the Union Governing Board, the Faculty Committee on Lectures and Artists, the University Disciplinary Committee, and the SGA President's Cabinet.

In all of its activities the Student Council keeps foremost in mind the welfare of the student body that it represents.

HONOR COUNCIL

Upholding high standards of integrity is the primary concern of the Honor Council. It is the major body of the judicial branch of the Student Government Association. The Council is composed of a senior member and one alternate member from each college and school. It is presided over by the Moderator, the senior representative from the Law School.

The Honor Council has many responsibilities. It interprets the SGA Constitution, hears appeals from the Elections Board, adjudicates cases involving violations of student honor, and aids in the program to eliminate classroom cheating and to recall leaked examinations.

The over-all responsibility of the Honor Council is to work actively toward a main goal of creating the highest possible sense of honor and integrity throughout every department of the University.

Jimmy Holliday
Moderator

SPECIAL COMMITTEES

The Morale Commission was created by the Student Government Association in order to provide entertainment for the student body and to coordinate various campus activities. They are responsible for coordination of Homecoming Week, cheerleader elections and activities, pep rallies, and the Pigskin Previews held during freshman orientation. The commission consists of representatives from various campus organizations. It is presided over by the Morale Commissioner, who is appointed by the SGA president.

In order to extend the activities of SGA and to improve its program, new groups are constantly being organized. These special groups include the Campus Chest Fund Drive Committee, the Council on Student Proposals and Recommendations, Finance Commission, Office of SGA Public Information, the Recreational Area Development Committee, the Student Activities Steering Committee, the Student Forum, Student Insurance, and the Student Legislative Liason Committee. Each group is interested not only in its specific activities and duties, but also concerned with improving the entire SGA program.

SGA COMMITTEES

The closest contact of the student body with the Student Government Association is through the activities of the seven standing committees.

Some of the committees primarily serve the students and the University. The Book Exchange Committee has set up a program to help students obtain their textbooks at a lower cost. The Leadership Workshop Committee holds an annual conference where representatives from each campus organization participate in meetings conducted by faculty members and businessmen. It is the duty of the Traffic and Safety Committee to make students more aware of the importance of safety. To encourage students to attend LSU is the objective of the High School Relations Committee. Displays at the Louisiana State Literary Rally and letters to the honor students in the state are two of the methods used by the committee to fulfill their objectives. The International Relations Committee promotes better relations with international students. This committee presents a talent show, exhibits products from different countries, and holds an International Festival.

Other committees are more interested in entertainment. When spring fever hits LSU, the Jambalaya Jamboree sponsors its annual Cajun carnival. Organizations take part in the merriment by selling items, providing entertainment, and participating in contests. The Homecoming Committee plans and executes the Homecoming Festivities, including selection of the Queen, and Tiger Tantrums.

The activities of the committees are numerous and varied, and they contribute greatly to the University community.

STUDENT UNION

The "living room of the campus," the LSU Union, experienced a very successful first year on campus. The Union not only furnished conveniences such as its post office, bookstore, games area, theater, art gallery, ballroom, and meeting rooms; it also provides enrichment of campus life through its extensive Union program.

Heading this program is the Union Governing board. The Board, consisting of thirteen outstanding LSU students, alumni, and faculty members, determines the basic policies and procedures for the operation of the Union. It also works closely with the Union staff, headed by the director, Carl Maddox, and with the Program Council.

The Program Council is composed primarily of its chairman, the two vice-chairmen, and the thirteen chairmen of the Union committees. Its main purpose is to provide a well-balanced program of social, recreational, cultural, and intellectual events which will supplement the academic work of the University.

The final success of this program, which is designed to benefit both the student and the University, can be attributed to the success of each committee in effectively organizing and presenting these events.

Lyceum Committee

Thirteen Union committees have been formed in order to assure a thorough development of the diversified Union program. The functions of these committees are varied. Entertainment is the primary concern of several committees; the Celebrity Showcase Committee brings big-name attractions to the campus; the Music Theater Committee handles the appearance of traveling shows and sponsors an annual student-presented musical; and the Social Activities Committee sponsors dances and other social functions held in the Union. The Games Committee coordinates the activities of the Union Games Room, and arrangements for the weekend movies in the Colonnade and the Cineak Series are made by the Movies Committee.

Other committees are interested in programs of a more educational nature. The Lyceum Committee provides lectures and discussions primarily on literature and music. The free speech alley is one of the many programs dealing with contemporary affairs sponsored by the Current Events Committee. Increasing interest in art on the LSU campus through the Union is the aim of the Art Committee.

Other committees provide services for the University. Offering an official welcome to the University for all campus visitors is the Hospitality Committee. The International Club encourages interest in other countries and their students. The Students Opportunities Committee provides the LSU student with information concerning travel, jobs, and the Peace Corps. The Personnel and Research Committee works toward improving the Union program. Pen Staff handles publicity for the Union activities, and publishes the State of the Union and This Week in the LSU Union. Each committee has specific responsibilities and all work together as a whole to make an effective Union program.

Associated Women Students, which is composed of all undergraduate LSU coeds, is a student government organization for the women of this University. The governing body of the AWS is divided into three parts: the Legislative Council, the Judicial Board, and the Executive Council.

The Executive Council, consisting of the officers, the Judicial Board chairman, three town representatives, and three representatives at large, is mainly concerned with steering, agenda making, and nominations. The Legislative Council includes the Executive Council, dormitory presidents, and the chairmen of the standing committees. It is concerned with legislation and service to the University and to women students. The Judicial Board, consisting of ten coeds, hears cases involving serious infractions of women's regulations.

Projects presented by the AWS standing committee include a Leadership Workshop for dormitory officers, publication of "The AWS Tiger Talk," Penny-A-Minute Night, and the AWS Snack Bar.

The purpose of AWS is to establish and maintain high social and academic standards and to encourage participation in student government.

MEN'S RESIDENCE HALLS ASSOCIATION

Jack Tittle ..... President
 Reynold Thibodeaux ..... Secretary
 Martin deGravette ..... Treasurer

The Men's Residence Halls Association extends the concept of student government into the men's dormitories. The MRHA functions as the voice of dormitory residents by representing them in campus affairs and by making recommendations for improvements in their accommodations.

In order to provide extensive representation, each dormitory section has a representative in one of the five dormitory councils. The activities of these councils are coordinated by the Association Council, which is composed of the three officers, and the president and a representative of each dormitory council. The three officers of MRHA are elected by all the men living in residence halls. There is also a newly formed Judicial Committee which adjudicates minor disciplinary cases.

The activities of MRHA include coordination of the Dorm Darling Contest, a program of athletic competition, and film series and special programs designed for men. They also work with the Associated Women Students organization to enrich the life of LSU students residing on campus.

FRESHMEN ADVISORS

To the freshman girl, a Freshman Advisor is an information bureau, counselor, and friend. To the University she is an integral part of the orientation program for new students. She extends a welcome to freshmen during Orientation Week, and implements the "L" Book in familiarizing the new students with University history, traditions, standards, and facilities. As for the Advisor, she wants to help each of her girls adjust to college life as effectively as her advisor assisted her when she first arrived at LSU.

The Freshman Advisor program was initiated in 1940, with four advisors. Now the program includes one hundred coeds, outstanding upperclass girls who are chosen by the Dean of Women and the Coordinator of Women's Residence Hall Activities. They are selected on the basis of their leadership ability, academic record, participation in extracurricular activities, and willingness to be of service to the University.

THE 1965 GUMBO

The GUMBO, the Louisiana State University yearbook, is compiled through the efforts of many people. Judy Cobb, editor of the 1965 GUMBO, and Carol Coe, associate editor, make the basic plan for the book. The general outline is brought from a rough sketch to the finished product by the editors and assistants of each section. Dr. R. H. Wiggins, faculty advisor, handles the task of business administration.

Staff members are selected by application to the Student Publications Committee, Dr. Don Higginbotham, chairman. As classes begin in the fall, the task of assembling the GUMBO begins. Copy is written, layouts are drawn, and pictures are taken. Before the Spring Semester, the last pages are finally assembled, and the yearbook is sent to the Benson Printing Company, Nashville. The finished product returns to LSU near the end of the Spring Semester when it is eagerly received by the students.

This is the sixty-fifth year of the GUMBO's publication. Since the first edition, styles and concepts in this yearbook have changed. The GUMBO has been transformed from a written history of the military and the football team to a complete story in pictures of LSU.

THE DAILY REVEILLE

After hard work and long hours on the part of the staff, the Daily Reveille goes to press to present the latest campus news to the student body. The Daily Reveille is organized like a daily city newspaper and is published four times weekly. The editorial staff consists entirely of students, who are chosen by the Student Publications Committee.

The assembly of the Reveille begins in the editorial offices located in the Journalism Building. The editor determines the general policy of the paper and the editorial page and the managing editor is in charge of news gathering and makes assignments to reporters and photographers. After the reporters submit their stories, the news editors and the sports editors correct any mistakes and write headlines.

Also important for the publication of the Daily Reveille is the advertising staff whose offices are located in the "L" Building. They solicit ads from local merchants and make the "dummies" for the editorial staff. It is through the combined efforts of the entire staff that the Daily Reveille is able to keep the LSU student informed of campus activities.

academics at LSU

The pursuit of learning and in it, the pursuit of excellence, is the basic reason a university exists. The quest for knowledge may be an exciting challenge—or a bore, reviewing much-covered ground before new and fascinating territory may be entered and fully understood. Equally exciting is the challenge each individual faces in exploring his own mind. It is only through knowledge of one's own capacities, potentials, and accomplishments that one can become truly proficient in a chosen endeavor or field of study.

Self-exploration and mental enrichment take place at LSU daily—encouraged, perpetrated, initiated by classes and professors. The teachers are paramount in this—they prod, pry, inquire, and inform. They are the academic mentors and encourage academic excellence.

MORTAR BOARD

Distinction in leadership, scholarship, and service among the senior women at Louisiana State University can be recognized in the wearers of the pin of Mortar Board, national honor society for senior women. Mortar Board, founded in 1918 at Syracuse University, came to the campus as Blazer chapter in 1934. Along with the 106 other chapters of the national organization, Blazer chapter has sought to further the ideals of college loyalty, service, fellowship, high standards of scholarship and leadership. In accordance with these ideals Mortar Board has helped with the Freshman Orientation Program, sold colorful shakers for the LSU-Tennessee Homecoming game, and sponsored jointly with Omicron Delta Kappa the Fall Leadership Convocation and the Spring Honors Day Convocation.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership society for men, was founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University and established here in 1933. A member of Omicron Delta Kappa is regarded nationally as one who represents the highest standards of his institution. The society recognizes by membership those men of the student body, faculty and alumni, who have attained a high standard of proficiency in leadership, athletics, student government, publications and the arts. Members are tapped twice each year at the Fall Leadership Day Convocation and at the Spring Honors Day Convocation, sponsored jointly with Mortar Board.

Mu Sigma Rho honorary fraternity was founded at LSU in 1912 to honor men and women students who have maintained a 2.33 average for five consecutive semesters in Arts and Sciences, Education or Music, or as economics majors in Business Administration. New members are selected and initiated each semester. In addition to encouraging academic achievement on the LSU campus, Mu Sigma Rho works with the Mu Sigma societies formed in high schools throughout the state to stimulate scholastic endeavor. Through these activities the fraternity strives to promote a true academic atmosphere at LSU and to inspire high ideals of education.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

The steady growth of the College of Agriculture demonstrates the significant role it plays as the land-grant College of the State of Louisiana. Working closely with the people of Louisiana in agriculture, forestry, home economics, vocational education, and related fields, the College serves through research, resident instruction, and extension. Facilities available in the training program include over 4,500 acres of land, outstanding herds and flocks, modern dairy plant, well equipped School of Home Economics, and experienced personnel. The College is influential throughout the LSU Campus as well as the State of Louisiana.

The nursery school in the School of Home Economics provides learning experiences for both the students as well as the children.

AGRICULTURE ECONOMICS ASSOCIATION

The Agricultural Economics Association is a professional organization that is affiliated with the student section of the American Farm Economic Association. The local association has furnished the national organization with two presidents and one vice-president in past years.

The Agricultural Economics Association is a forward-looking club that presents interesting films and informative speakers to its members. These films and lectures furnish greater knowledge of the economics and business in agriculture. Meetings are held twice monthly and members must maintain a C average.

A year-long calendar of social events provides an opportunity to better student and faculty relations. Events include a spring seafood boil, a fall bar-b-que and a Christmas dance.

SOCIETY OF LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTS

Landscape architecture is the shaping of man's natural environment. The American Society of Landscape Architects is the professional organization of landscape architects whose major educational function is the establishment of accredited schools of Landscape Architecture. Landscape Architecture at Louisiana State University became accredited in 1959 and became a department of Landscape Architecture in 1964.

The Student Branch of the American Society of Landscape Architects functions as a transition from academic to professional practice. The main function of the Society is to acquaint the student with the profession of landscape architecture and the functions of Landscape Architects.

Activities sponsored by the club include business meetings with programs about Landscape Architecture, the Gladney Lecture Series, Summer Seminars, field trips and visiting critics and lecturers.

In addition to regular meetings, social events, and participation in the LSU Spring Rodeo, the club provides an opportunity for individual members to participate in national debate, public speaking, and essay contests.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE CLUB

The purpose of the Block and Bridle Club is to promote interest in livestock, interest in scholarship, and cooperation between faculty and students.

The club is associated with the Animal Science Department, but anyone in the College of Agriculture is eligible to join. There are approximately twenty active members and eighteen initiates in the club.

Various activities keep Block and Bridle Club members busy. During the fall semester, the major activities include the Rodeo Queen Contest, the All-Student Rodeo, and the Block and Bridle Livestock Judging Contest. Spring activities include the Little International Showmanship Contest and the annual banquet. The club also assists in putting on the FFA and 4-H Judging Contests.

One of the purposes of the club is to promote scholarship. Each year the Block and Bridle Club presents scholarships to two outstanding members.

The Block and Bridle Club attempts to further promote the livestock industry by cooperating with University faculty and staff and others in this field.

ALPHA ZETA

Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, was founded in 1897 at Ohio State University and was established at LSU on April 20, 1916. It is one of 53 Chapters and is known at LSU as Louisiana Alpha Chapter of Alpha Zeta.

The fraternity's objective is to foster high standards of scholarship, character leadership, and a spirit of fellowship among all its members.

The main purpose of the fraternity is to promote the profession of agriculture. Annual projects are the awarding of the Alpha Zeta freshman award and outstanding Senior award.

ENTOMOLOGY CLUB

The Entomology Club, founded in 1963, strives to promote entomology in Louisiana. Active membership is open to students majoring or minoring in entomology, while associate membership is open to all students and faculty.

The meetings of this organization are held twice a month during the regular school year. The first meeting of the month is for the presentation of a guest speaker, and the second meeting of each month is held for the conduction of business.

Jerry B. Graves serves as faculty advisor.

EPSILON PI TAU

Service to the industrial field is the purpose of Epsilon Pi Tau, honorary organization of industrial education and industrial technology, founded in 1929 at Columbus, Ohio. To become a member one must be a second semester sophomore ranking in the upper one-fifth of the two sponsoring departments.

Activities are directed toward three major goals: skill, use of tools, and shaping of materials to serve man's desires; social efficiency, ability to live in peace and with profit among one's fellowmen; and research, search for truth.

FARM EQUIPMENT MANAGEMENT CLUB

LSU welcomed the formation of the Farm Equipment Management Club this year. The Club received its charter from the University November 10, 1964. With great hopes for the future the officers and members pledged an effort to promote fellowships among its members and stimulate interest in Farm Equipment Management.

The Club meets monthly. In addition to business discussions, guest speakers were invited to discuss topics of mutual interest. Club membership is open to all students who have a deep interest in Farm Equipment Management.

HORTICULTURE CLUB

Highlights of the LSU Horticulture Society's activities this year included the annual spring barbecue and the spring dance. We represented LSU at the annual Southern Region and National conventions of the American Society of Horticultural Science. Numerous other social and educational activities brought to a close another successful school year.

The purpose of the Society, established in 1946, is to establish bonds of friendship among its members, to bring pertinent problems before the group for discussion, and to promote the science of horticulture. Membership in the LSU Horticulture Society is open to students majoring in or interested in horticulture. Mr. James Fontenot and Dr. Earl Barrios are faculty advisors for the Society.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION CLUB

The Industrial Education Club, founded December 3, 1947, is a professional organization open to students enrolled in industrial education courses in the fields of industrial technology and industrials arts. The Club's main objective is to promote interest in the development of technical skills and knowledge.

Meetings are held monthly. Highlights of the year include guest speakers, movies and field trips. This year the Club toured the Humble Oil and Refining Company's facilities in Baton Rouge and Dow Chemical Company's installation in Plaquemine.

The Club is noted for its domination of first place standings in the annual Homecoming decoration competition in the miscellaneous division. Club members look forward to the annual Club picnic, which is held each spring.

DAIRY SCIENCE CLUB

The Dairy Science Club, Student Branch of the American Dairy Science Association, is open to any student interested in the dairy industry. Its main purpose is providing educational and recreational activities for these students. Other objectives include developing friendship, promoting scholarship and leadership among the club members.

The club sponsors monthly luncheons, a Christmas party, and bar-b-ques in an effort to bring students and faculty members closer together. Members annually participate on the Dairy Cattle Judging Team and the Dairy Products Judging Team. Other activities are the regular monthly meetings and the sponsoring of three annual 4-H and FFA judging contests.

The big event of the year is the annual banquet at which awards are presented to the Outstanding Louisiana Dairyman of the Year, and the Outstanding Senior and Freshman club members.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON

Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary and professional fraternity, was founded at the University of Minnesota in 1909. Sigma chapter was founded in 1931. The selection of members is based on scholarship, leadership, personality, and character. The chapter's program combines business meetings, educational programs, and professional projects. The program emphasized this year was career opportunities in the home economics field. A Christmas party honored sophomores in home economics who attained a high scholastic average in their freshman year. This year's program also included a special program on demonstration techniques, the founder's day program and a party honoring the seniors of Phi Upsilon Omicron. Phi U made sandwiches, along with Alpha Zeta, for the Spring Rodeo. This was the chapter's money-making project.

POULTRY SCIENCE CLUB

The year's activities for the Poultry Science Club include Fall Banquet, a Spring barbecue and participation in campus league athletics. The club also helps with the 4-H and FFA poultry-judging contest and sends judging teams to the Regional and National Contests.

A unique feature of the Poultry Science Club is that the members do not pay dues. Instead, each member volunteers his help in the Club's fund-raising projects.

Established on Oct. 22, 1940, the Poultry Science Club has as its objective the creation and fostering of interest in poultry among the students of the College of Agriculture. Membership in the Club includes undergraduates and graduate students majoring in or showing interest in poultry. Dr. A. B. Watts, W. A. Johnson, and Dr. R. A. Teekell serve as faculty advisors to this organization.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF AGRONOMY

The purpose of this organization, which was established at LSU in 1937, is to stimulate interest in agronomy work among college students in agriculture and to correlate activities in agronomy with those in closely related fields. The club sponsors soil and crop-judging teams which compete in the state, regional, and national contests. In the Southern Regional contest, the soil-judging team placed first. Also the first and second-highest individual scores were awarded to LSU students.

This will allow the team to enter the national contest in North Carolina during the spring.

The crop-judging team, which won the state contest last spring, will compete again this year. Delegates are sent each year to the national convention of the American Society of Agronomy. The club also participates in Agriculture Career Day and shows films during its regular meetings.

One of the most important events of the year for the Society of Foresters is participation in the annual conclave of the Association of Southern Forestry Clubs held in North Carolina. This is but one event in the program of an active organization. The club also conducts an orientation program for forestry freshmen and new students. Other functions included the Fall Field Day, the Christmas and Spring parties, and the publication of the Annual Ring. Club activities are financed largely by cold drink sales at the Rodeo and by the students' wages for labor involved in the clearcutting and planting of an acre at the Demonstration Forest each year. Meetings are held twice each month and usually include a program presented by a guest speaker.

The Society of Foresters, founded in 1924, seeks to promote the profession of forestry.

ANNUAL RING

The Annual Ring is an outstanding student publication of the School of Forestry and Wildlife Management. As the official yearbook of this School, it records in pictorial form activities such as field trips, summer camp, lab sessions, social gatherings and annual forestry conclaves. It also includes a directory of alumni, and news and pictures of graduates. Through the cooperation of many people the Annual Ring Staff is proud to present its 1965 publication.

XI SIGMA PI

Xi Sigma Pi, the national forestry honor fraternity, was founded at the University of Washington on November 24, 1908.

Nu Chapter was founded at the LSU School of Forestry on April 13, 1940. Only forestry students of high scholastic standing who show promise of attaining high professional achievement may be elected to membership in the fraternity.

The objectives of Xi Sigma Pi are to secure and maintain a high standard of scholarship in forestry education, to work for the upbuilding of forestry, and to promote fraternal relations among earnest workers engaged in forestry activities.

COLLEGE OF
ARTS AND SCIENCES

The College of Arts and Sciences claims approximately half of all class registrations at LSU. Offering three basic curricula—liberal arts, natural sciences, and social sciences—its purpose is to give the student a liberal education devoted to intellectual development rather than to technical skills. The student receives the wide and varied background essential to a true understanding of our world today. The College also provides pre-professional work for students studying law, medicine, dentistry, nursing, and social welfare; and provides specialist training in the Schools of Journalism and Geology.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Theta Sigma Phi is a national professional fraternity for women in journalism and communications. The oldest journalism fraternity in the United States, it was founded at the University of Washington, Seattle, on April 8, 1909, with the hope that from it would come the great women writers of the future. Since its establishment at LSU in 1927, Alpha Kappa chapter has worked to bring together women in all fields of communication and to recognize outstanding achievements of women in journalism.

Student members of Theta Sigma Phi are selected from high ranking juniors, seniors and graduate students active in college communications, who intend to follow a communications career. After graduation student members join a professional chapter, or the member-at-large program. Alpha Kappa chapter works closely with the Baton Rouge professional Theta Sigma Phi chapter.

PI MU EPSILON

Pi Mu Epsilon, mathematics honor fraternity, was founded at Syracuse University on May 25, 1914. The Louisiana Alpha chapter was begun in 1939. It is a non-secret organization which proposes to promote scholarly activity in mathematics among students. Members are elected on an honorary basis according to their proficiency in mathematics and their engagement in activities designed to promote mathematical and scholarly development.

Each Spring Pi Mu Epsilon sponsors a mathematics test for freshmen and seniors, and awards are given to the outstanding performers in each category. Regular meetings of the chapter usually feature a talk on a mathematical topic by a member of the faculty.

LOUISIANA PLAYER'S GUILD

Louisiana Player's Guild provides speech students with the opportunity to practice theatrical skills which they have studied in the classroom, and to experiment with new types of theatre. Emphasis is placed upon the theoretical and educational aspects of each production. Students study various styles of theatre, and produce plays according to these styles. A critique of each production is held after its presentation.

Besides offering students a chance to act, direct, and work on the technical phases of play production, Louisiana Player's Guild provides its members with individual instruction in theatre arts by means of various committees.

THE MASQUERS

The Masquers, a professional organization associated with the Speech Department, was founded at Louisiana State University on October 9, 1942. Requirements for membership include completion of a course in Stage Make-up, and previous work on make-up for the Guild productions. The purpose of the group is to further the growth of make-up in drama.

Some of the events planned for the year include discussions by faculty members of the major productions put on by the students, the Christmas party, Fall and Spring Initiation, and then the Masquers' Picnic and Installation of officers in May.

DELTA SIGMA PI

Delta Sigma Pi, a professional commerce and business administration fraternity, was founded on November 7, 1907, and has grown to a membership of over 55,000. Beta Zeta chapter at LSU was established December 7, 1929, in accord with the national purpose of providing a brotherhood of men in business who strive "to foster the study of business in Universities; to encourage scholarship, social activity, and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice; to promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and the students of commerce; and to further a higher standard of commercial ethics and culture." Delta Sigma Pi chooses its members from the students and faculty of the College of Business Administration.

Beta Zeta chapter seeks to achieve its goals by sponsoring business programs and by touring key industries in Southeast Louisiana. 1964-65 tours included Michoud and the New Orleans dock facilities. Social activities are also important to the fraternity. Its social calendar is climaxed with the Rose Formal at which the sweetheart and her court are presented. Scholarship too is stressed, and each year Delta Sigma Pi awards a scholarship key to the top male graduating senior in Business Administration.

COLLEGE OF CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS

COLLEGE OF CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS

Curricula designed for training professional scientists along with providing a broad general education is available through the College of Chemistry and Physics. The College emphasizes research as the foundation for progress, and participates in several active research programs. The second of its kind to be established in the United States, the LSU College of Chemistry and Physics is one of the most respected in the country. The world-famous Audubon Sugar School attracts students from many areas of the world. The aim of the College is to train chemists and physicists capable of holding positions of trust and responsibility in modern industry and scientific research.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA

Alpha Chi Sigma, founded at the University of Wisconsin on December 11, 1902, is a professional chemical fraternity whose aims are brotherhood, the advancement of chemistry, and assistance to its members in their chosen chemistry field. Invitation to membership is extended to students majoring in chemistry, chemical engineering, and related fields.

Psi chapter was founded at LSU in 1914. It works with the College of Chemistry and Physics in its activities. It is co-sponsor of a proficiency exam in chemistry for freshmen, and this year gave several hundred professional publications to the Chemistry Library. Alpha Chi Sigma participates in Science days in the Spring, is planning safety classes for freshmen chemistry laboratories, and conducts a slide rule class for the entire student body.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The American Chemical Society is designed to give students a clearer understanding of chemistry. Membership is open to students majoring in chemistry or related fields such as biochemistry and chemical engineering. Members and non-members are given the opportunity to hear speeches by faculty members and professional men in chemistry and to view films on different phases of chemistry at the meetings.

The club co-sponsors a freshman chemistry proficiency exam, and participates in a chemistry show during the Science Days in the Spring. ACS also maintains a display case in the Chemistry building.

Lambda Tau, national medical technology honor society, was founded at the University of Oklahoma in 1957; and the Epsilon chapter at LSU was established in 1961. Membership requirements are a major in medical technology, sophomore classification or above, and a good scholastic standing in the College of Chemistry and Physics.

Annual activities include an installation ceremony for new members, an orientation program for freshmen in the field, and a Spring picnic. Through such a program the society hopes a spirit of cooperation and friendship among students majoring in medical technology will be developed, and a higher type of ideal for scholastic effort stimulated.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

The Louisiana Beta chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta was established in 1954. An honorary premedical fraternity, Alpha Epsilon Delta brings the premedical students closer together and promotes scholarship and a better understanding of the medical field. It welcomes to its membership premedical students having an overall average of 1.8, and maintaining a 2.0 average the semester prior to initiation.

A convocation for all premedical students, and trips to the medical school in New Orleans and to the Leprosarium in Carville are yearly activities of the fraternity. A national convention is held biennially.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Preparing students for teaching and administrative positions is the purpose of the College of Education. A carefully programmed curriculum designed specifically for preparation of teachers in various fields culminates in supervised student teaching at the University Laboratory School. The essential desire to teach coupled with high purpose, scholarship, teaching skill and understanding are encouraged by the College of Education.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA

Kappa Phi Kappa, a national fraternity in education, was established at Dartmouth College in 1922. Alpha Psi chapter works to discover men who show promise of excellence in the education profession and to bring these men into its fraternal association early in their professional training. The fraternity provides its members with association with persons of practical experience and brings them into contact with outstanding educators.

SNEA

The Student National Education Association is a professional organization for University students who are preparing for a teaching career. These students also become members of the Student Louisiana Teachers Association. It provides for its members the personal and professional development, knowledge and understanding of the history, organization, ethics, programs and problems of the teaching profession.

Today's rapid rate of technological progress creates the need for trained engineers in every field. Agriculture, chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical, sugar, petroleum, petrolchemical, and engine science comprise the areas of study in the College of Engineering. Classroom work is supplemented by drafting, field work, and laboratory work. The College of Engineering has a cooperative program with a number of companies which alternate college and industrial work over a period of five years.

The student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers was formed on this campus 27 years ago to enable students in chemical engineering to become acquainted with their professional society. Student membership leads to active membership with their professional society. Student membership leads to active membership after the student graduates and begins his career. To become a member of the organization, one must be a student in chemical or petroleum-chemical engineering. Dr. Arthur C. Keller is faculty adviser for the group.

The annual Engineers Day and the yearly chemical engineering picnic were again the two major projects carried out by the organization. In addition, throughout the year the group was kept informed by speakers and films depicting work in the engineering profession.

Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, was founded at Lehigh University in 1886. Its purpose is "to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates in engineering, and to foster a spirit of liberal culture in the engineering colleges of America."

Alpha chapter was established in 1936. Scholastic requirements for membership are a 2.5 average for juniors, 2.1 for first semester seniors and 2.0 for graduating seniors.

JUNIOR DIVISION

Junior Division provides for the special needs of the freshman student during his first year at L.S.U. Conduction pre-admission testing programs and placement tests, guidance by professionally trained counselors, direction to suitable courses and areas of study, and close supervision of the student are just a few of the activities undertaken by Junior Division.

LAW SCHOOL

In accordance with the general provisions of the University charter, the L.S.U. Law School was established in 1906. The Law School's primary objective is to prepare students for the practice of law in Louisiana where prevailing civil law is based on the Napoleonic Code. Broad legal principles and their application are utilized in moot courts that provide the practical experience. Its curriculum and general program encourage scholarship and research in order to lay the foundation for scientific investigation of the problems of legal adjustment of human relations and to stimulate legal authorship.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AND DEPARTMENT OF NURSING

The School of Medicine is part of the largest medical teaching center in the world. Located in the heart of New Orleans next to Charity Hospital, the 11-story building contains a library of more than 100,000 volumes.

The prescribed course leading to a degree of doctor of medicine extends for four years. The first two years are devoted to intensive study of basic medical sciences in lecture rooms and laboratories. The last two years are spent largely in the wards and clinics of Charity Hospital. Following internship, some choose to continue their studies and to specialize. Other graduates enter general practice.

On the lighter side, students enjoy the Cadaver Ball, celebrating the successful completion of the freshman first semester, and the student-faculty banquet at the end of the school year.

While working in close association with the School of Medicine and Charity Hospital, the Department of Nursing has for 23 years trained and prepared students for the vital profession of nursing.

The general nursing curriculum is composed of four semesters of instruction on the Baton Rouge campus and completion of training in New Orleans with a B.S. degree in nursing as the reward. Students in the nursing program divide their time between classroom and field experience, where they come into direct contact with patients in nursing homes, hospitals and public health agencies. A four-year basic nursing curriculum for high school students was recently inaugurated.

Louisiana State University Nurses Association is a professional nursing organization in the School of Medicine, Department of Nursing. It is composed of students in the four year basic nursing program and the five semester program for graduates of hospital schools of nursing, both of which lead to a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

The organization was established in the Department of Nursing in 1958 for the purpose of stimulating school spirit, promoting student welfare, fostering closer student-faculty relationships and encouraging participation in professional activities. Its programs include guest speakers, programs by students and an interpretation program for high school students plus an open house for interested potential students in nursing.

Nu Sigma Nu, the oldest medical fraternity in the United States, was founded March 2, 1882, at the University of Michigan Medical School. The Beta Psi chapter was established in 1951, when a local group, the Caducians, petitioned the national fraternity. Nu Sigma Nu includes the following outstanding men in American medicine: Sir William J. Mayo, Alfred Blalock and William Manninger. Charles M. Goss, one of these outstanding men, is now our faculty adviser.

Nu Sigma Nu provides for its members a well rounded social calendar, giving them a means of relaxation from the didactic aspect of medical school life. It provides its members with fellowship and stimulating experiences in the study and practice of medicine. In addition, its meetings provide a common place for students and faculty.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The purpose of the School of Music is to develop the individual's innate musical skills and in so doing contribute to the growth both of the individual and of his fellow man. Study programs in voice, composition, instrument and sacred music are of both a vocational and an avocational nature. Contributing to the cultural development of music majors and students in other curricula are student recitals and classes in the musical heritage of the world.

A student production such as this year's presentation of the "Marriage of Figaro" gives music majors an opportunity to show their talent.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WELFARE

STUDENT ASSOCIATION OF THE SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WELFARE

The School of Social Welfare is a professional school of social work on the graduate level, offering two years of social work education leading to the Master of Social Work degree.

The aim of Social Welfare is to provide a complete, integrated, and dynamic program of social work education. The objectives of the program are to increase the supply of competent personnel; improve the quality of preventive, restorative, and rehabilitative services; and enhance the economical and efficient administration of social welfare service.

The Student Association of the School of Social Welfare integrates these aims and objectives to help prepare responsible, professional social workers.

The Association sponsors social events for the student body and works cooperatively with alumni and faculty to further the goals of the school and social work education.

Commandant of Cadets

Lieutenant Colonel Robert V. Price
Professor of Air Science

MILITARY STAFF

The purpose of ROTC is to interest and train selected college students to qualify as commissioned officers in either the Army or Air Force. The Cadet Corps is responsible for coordinating activities between the Army Cadet Brigade and the Cadet Wing of the Air Force. The Corps also includes the Corps Headquarters, a Headquarters Company, and the Military Band.

The operations over which the Corps has command include Freshman Orientation, Color Guard and Flag Detail, Corps Athletic program, and Homecoming. The Corps also establishes a Corps fund and is responsible for such special events as the Military Ball.

Standing: Major Art Gaspar, Major Louie Champagne, Major George Turnipseed, Major John Deats, Lt. Col. John Arron, Major Frank Taylor, Capt. John Stokes, Lt. Col. Ron Hinkle. Sitting: Lt. Col. Herb Maxwell, Senior Col. Ray Barber, Corps Commander; Lt. Col. Frank Beason.

Cadet Senior Colonel Ramond E. Barber, Corps Commander.

Cadet Colonel John Cox, Deputy Corps Commander.

Wing Commander

WING COMMAND

The mission of the Cadet Wing is to provide command, staff, leadership, and basic military training for Air Force ROTC cadets and to assist in the selection, motivation, and training of cadets to serve as commissioned officers in the USAF.

The Wing includes a Headquarters Squadron and five groups each containing four squadrons.

Lt. Col. Robert McNeese, Lt. Col. Don Moody, Lt. Col. Frank Fox, Lt. Col. Richard McDuff, Lt. Col. Louis Davis.

Brigade Commander

BRIGADE COMMAND

Nineteen hundred strong, the Brigade is led by approximately 100 advanced cadets. Serving in all categories of Army R.O.T.C. officialdom, they are gaining the training necessary to a commissioned officer in the U. S. Army. Comprised of a Headquarters, a Headquarters Company, and five Battalions of three companies each, the Brigade's mission is similar to that of the Wing and is carried out by planning and conducting such programs as leadership laboratory, parades, and ceremonies.

AIR FORCE SPONSORS

To enhance the morale and discipline of the cadet corps, sponsors are selected at the beginning of each fall semester for the ensuing year. Serving as honorary officers, the sponsors are chosen by the units they represent.

The girls are instructed in basic military drill and ceremonies necessary for marching with the units in regular weekly parades and formal parades.

Activities of the sponsors include participation in the annual Homecoming Day Parade, Alumni Day Parade, Graduation Parade, and the Corps Awards Parade.

Formal presentation of the sponsors is made at the annual Military Ball which is held in the Spring.

COMPANY D-6 PERSHING RIFLES

The basic concept of the Pershing Rifles National Society is to provide a high degree of proficiency in drill, as well as to promote a spirit of cooperation among the officers and cadets of ROTC. In 1894 at the University of Nebraska, General Pershing provided the nucleus for the present organization. From one precision unit, Pershing Rifles have spread across the United States and are an integral part of more than half the universities having an ROTC program.

The Pershing Rifle drill unit provides the color and magnifies the spirit of the military throughout the country. Parades, shows, demonstrations, drill meets and campus services reflect the majority of Company D-6's activities.

The highlight of the year for Company D-6 is the Annual Drill Competition held in the Spring at Fort Rucker, Alabama. At this time, all of the drill teams in the regiment get together and show what their training for the year has accomplished. In recognition for their outstanding performance on the drill field, the top unit is awarded the coveted Overall Drill Meet Winner Trophy.

The Pershing Rifles, the elite of all military organizations on the LSU campus, has a long and honorable history. First founded in 1893 by General John J. Pershing, they were originally called the Varsity Rifles. From this small beginning at the University of Nebraska, the P.R.'s have expanded tremendously. Today, almost every large university has a P.R. unit.

Among all the units in the nation, our LSU unit, Co. D-6, has an outstanding reputation. They have consistently won the 6th regiment drill meet, which has been one of the best in the nation.

The Pershing Rifles at LSU are commanded by C/Capt. Gordon L. Jenkins. Under his leadership, the company has established a fine record and brought national recognition to LSU.

ARMY BENGAL RAIDERS

To increase the Army ROTC program and the cadet's knowledge of special warfare and unconventional tactics, and to better prepare the army cadet for Summer Camp, the Bengal Raiders was formed.

The men in the Raiders received instruction closely resembling that given at the U.S. Army Ranger School. The Raiders meet weekly to receive instruction from Capt. James L. Buckner and M.Sgt. Oswald J. Broussard. The students then take the instruction and practice it on night maneuvers in the Ben Hur farm area.

Only highly qualified and specially selected cadets are accepted into the Raiders. The Raider trainee must be an advanced ROTC cadet or a second-semester sophomore with intentions of entering the advanced program. In addition, the members must maintain a 1.3 University average and a 1.5 Military Science average.

New Raiders are trainees for one semester. At the end of this period they must pass a comprehensive examination on the training they have received. There is no harassment—strictly good training.

The Bengal Raiders offer interested cadets an opportunity to learn and practice the techniques of unconventional warfare. Here the organization attempts to solve a field problem on one of its training maneuvers.

ANGEL FLIGHT

Angel Flight, the woman's auxiliary to Arnold Air Society and also a national honorary society for women, received its charter from the national organization in October, 1958. Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, ability, and leadership.

The Angel Flight is proud to be the "official hostess" of LSU and has performed many duties under this title. Activities for this year included ushering at the Union functions, welcoming the visiting football teams on their arrival in Baton Rouge, marching in the Military Homecoming parade and the Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade. The "Angels" also assisted the Arnold Air Society in collecting funds for the United Givers Fund Drive, and sponsored an annual Fall Style Show.

The Angels, under the leadership of Commander Von Sandifer have again this year fulfilled their aim of serving both the University and the Air Force ROTC Program.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

Founded to further the mission of the U.S. Air Force at college and university level by encouraging greater teamwork, technical knowledge, and cooperation among the students enrolled in advanced AFROTC, the Frank S. Hagan chapter of the Arnold Air Society has been active in University affairs ever since its chartering on the LSU campus in 1947.

Priding itself as the most active honorary organization on the LSU campus, the society holds regular meetings, activities, projects, and social events.

As an honorary organization, the Arnold Air Society requires high academic and leadership achievement as prerequisites for membership. All members must maintain a 1.5 over-all and a 2.0 or better average in all air science courses.

By its high standards and numerous activities, the society endeavors to further the mission of the U.S. Air Force and the University.

The Scotch Guard, an Army auxiliary unit, was founded at LSU in March, 1963. The formation of the unit began in the Fall of 1962 under the guidance of Helen Gordon, dean of women, Col. Dale Schweinler, Maj. Gordon Irwin and Jerry L. Mittendorf. Presently commanded by Judy Ryan, the objectives of the Guard are:

A. To advance, promote and exemplify interest in the Army and the ROTC.

B. To render service to LSU.

C. To promote citizenship through the working experience of scholarship and leadership.

A proposed member shall be eligible provided she is enrolled in the University one semester prior to acceptance in the Guard, that she have a minimum average of 1.5, exhibits a record of service and shows indications of potential leadership.

During the notorious "Dogface Week" held once each semester by the Association of the United States Army, future U.S. Army officers who have shown exceptional leadership ability, character and intelligence are invested with AUSA membership. Approximately 30 cadets are accepted annually.

They thus become associated with an organization whose role at LSU is to promote the Army and the Army ROTC. The LSU company also provides its members with the incentive for increasing their military skills. The initiates are encouraged to engage in activities that will increase their interest in the United States Army.

Both advanced and basic cadets may aspire to membership in the AUSA. It provides a bridge or middle ground over which ideas and opinions may be expressed.

The Association of the United States Army is a national military organization with ROTC companies established at all major universities in this country. The LSU company originated in March, 1957. The high standards necessary for qualification as a candidate for initiation make membership a high honor.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade is a national military honor society located in 171 colleges and universities which have ROTC programs. The purpose of Scabbard and Blade is to promote military education, to recognize and develop leadership, and to provide a closer relationship among military departments of American universities.

Since its chartering in 1923, the LSU chapter, company E, 5th Regiment, has initiated over 1200 outstanding men. Membership is open to cadet officers who have maintained a 1.5 scholastic average and a 2.0 average in Military or Air Science.

Members of Co. E-5 include the Corps, Brigade, and Wing Commanders plus many key staff and unit commanders.

In addition to its annual events, which include Homecoming ceremonies, pistol matches, the Military Ball, and the Dixie Horse Show, Co. E-5 last year formed a sabre arch for the inauguration of Governor John J. McKeithen.

SOCIETY OF AMERICAN MILITARY ENGINEERS

The Society of American Military Engineers, a national association of engineers from all the Armed Forces and from all fields of civilian engineering, was founded in 1920 to increase the engineering potential of the United States for the national security. Since its founding in 1956, the LSU Student Post of SAME has been an active part of the National Society.

Members of SAME are Army and Air Force cadets and civilians enrolled in technical fields of study or interested in the science of military engineering. At the initiation banquet held each semester the new members or "Sappers" are formally accepted into the post.

Meetings are held bi-monthly for the presentation and discussion of appropriate topics. Lectures by prominent men in their fields and films of engineering importance are part of the program.

This year SAME toured the Good Hope Revetment Project near Norco, La., the Saturn Booster Testing facilities near Pearlington, Miss., Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala., and the Corps of Engineers Experiment Station in Vicksburg, Miss. SAME also participated in such activities as Engineering Day, Union Carnival, Armed Forces Day, and the SAME Southwest Regional Convention.

athletics at LSU

Balancing the mental gymnastics of the educational game with physical ones, LSU's athletes can make or break the university's reputation in the sports world. Varsity sports have become big business, as can be attested to by the howling hordes that attend all university athletic events. Success may be measured in seats sold or games won; but however victory is obtained, LSU is always a winner. Big names in all sports of national prominence have begun their eminent careers on the Baton Rouge campus. Their qualities, skills, and virtues are numerous: physical courage, stamina, speed, and endurance are demanded in the pursuit of athletic excellence. Moreover, conduct in performance, sportsmanship and fair play are equally important, and its validity is evidenced by the attitudes and mores of LSU's athletic department and its coaches, staff members and players.

LSU 3 RICE 0

RICE STADIUM, Houston, Tex.; September 26, 1964

A crowd of 64,000 watched the Bengals defeat the Rice Owl 3-0. After a scoreless first half, the Tigers got the winning points on a 28-yard field goal by Doug Moreau with 2:24 remaining in the game.

Remi Prudhomme kicked off for the Bengals after the only score in the game. After the Owls frittered away their four downs, Tiger quarterback Pat Screen ran out the clock.

Outstanding defensive players were Ruffin Rodrigue with 4 unassisted and 8 assisted tackles; Mike Vincent with 1 and 7; and Ken Cormier, who broke up a key Rice pass.

Firmly gripping the pigskin after taking a nice hand-off, DiBetta (21) takes off through Rice territory.

LSU 9 TEXAS A&M 6

TIGER STADIUM; September 19, 1964

The Bengals opened the season in fine style by defeating the Aggies from Texas A&M 9-6.

In the closing seconds of the first period, Tiger tackle Fussell fell on the ball in the end zone after an Aggie kick was blocked for the first TD. Moreau's kick was no good, and the score stood at 6-0 in the Tigers' favor.

During the second quarter, Moreau put his talented toe behind a 34-yard field goal to bring the score to 9-0 in L.S.U.'s favor. Defensively, the Bengals held the A&M team scoreless through the third period, too, but were unable to add any points themselves.

In the final quarter, the Aggies at last came to life, driving 81 yards in 16 plays for their lone touchdown. But the attempt for PAT was no good, and the final score stood 9-6.

The talented toe does it again, as Moreau (80) scores points against Rice with the aid of Ezell (11).

LSU 20 NC 0

TIGER STADIUM; October 10, 1964

Bengal end Doug Moreau contributed 14 points to the 20-0 victory over North Carolina. With 10:03 remaining in the first period, Moreau booted a 36 yarder to put the first score on the board.

After a scoreless second period, N.C. received three points from a 25-yard field goal. Gawain DiBetta took a hand-off from quarterback Pat Screen and went up the middle five yards for the TD six minutes later.

In the fourth quarter, Moreau early kicked a 19 yard field goal and then gathered in a pass from Pat Screen in the end zone for another six points. Moreau kicked the extra point to complete the score.

Next he'll be using sign language!

LSU 27 KENTUCKY 7

STOLL FIELD, Lexington, Ky.; October 17, 1964

The Tigers downed the Kentucky team 27-7 in a game that kept the fans from both sides on the edges of their seats every minute of the playing time. Kentucky scored in the first play from scrimmage, a right-hand sweep that went for 76 yards with only 45 seconds elapsed. The extra point was good.

Before the first period was over, however, the Tigers had tied the score, climaxing a 40-yard drive when Full-back Don Schwab went over from the one-yard-line.

In the second quarter, Doug Moreau tallied 3 more points from the 21-yard-line. Early in the third period, White Graves intercepted a Kentucky pass on his own one and went back 99 yards for a touchdown. Moreau added another three. Then, with 55 seconds left to play, Bily Ezell scored on a quarterback keep from the 21-yard line.

LSU 3 TENN 3

TIGER STADIUM; October 24, 1964

The Tennessee Volunteers held the Bengals to a 3-3 tie before a crowd of 59,000 in the stadium and thousands more following the game on regional television.

A 14-yard touchdown pass by Tennessee's Wantland was called back because of illegal passing, but four plays later Martin put his toe behind a 28-yard field goal with only 57 seconds remaining in the first period.

With Billy Ezell holding, Doug Moreau saved the Tigers from defeat with three seconds left in the first half when he booted a 21-yard field goal to tie the score.

Late in the third period, the Bengals drove to the Tennessee four-yard-line and even further in the beginning seconds of the final period. The Volunteers' defensive stand held, however, and they took the ball on their own ½ yard line, leaving the tie score to stand as final.

The moment of doubt! Officials ruled Don Schwab's (42) dive for the end zone was stopped just inches short of its objective.

Executing the Tigers' famed power sweep is Gawain DiBetta.

LSU 11 OLE MISS 10

TIGER STADIUM; October 31, 1964

The Bengals redeemed themselves for a humiliating defeat the year before by downing the Ole Miss Rebels 11-10 in an amazing game before a complete sell-out crowd.

Doug Moreau put the Tigers in the plus range with a 33 yard field goal in the first quarter, but the Rebels came back, driving 69 yards for the TD and point after.

After scoreless second and third periods, the Rebels put more heat on with a successful 28-yard field goal attempt. But with 3:36 left to play, Tiger quarterback Billy Ezell hit Masters in the end zone for a touchdown, making the score 10-9 in Ole Miss's favor. After a tension-building time-out, Ezell smoothly passed to Moreau for a two-point conversion and the game.

Congratulations makes the rounds of a victorious but tired Tiger team.

LSU 9 ALABAMA 17

LEGION FIELD, Birmingham, Ala.; November 7, 1964

The Bengals suffered their first defeat of the season at Alabama's hands, 17-9.

Doug Moreau pulled in Billy Ezell's pass in the end zone early in the game to put the first score on the boards. The PAT was off to the left and the Tigers led 6-0. But the Crimson Tide bounced back and topped a 30-yard drive with a touchdown and a successful point after to go ahead 7-6.

In the second period, Moreau booted a 35 yard field goal to put the Bengals ahead 9-7 and so the score stood at half-time and through the third quarter. But six seconds after the final period began, the Tide rolled back with a field goal of their own, to lead 10-9, and clinched the win with 33 yard runback of an interception of a Pat Screen pass and the PAT to make the final score 17-9.

All-SEC flanker back Doug Moreau (80) snags a touchdown pass to boost the Tiger score.

LSU 13 TULANE 3

SUGAR BOWL; November 21, 1965

The Bengals downed Tulane in a much closer game than is shown by the final score to sew up an invitation to the Sugar Bowl. The Green Wave led 3-0 until the last three seconds of the second half, when Doug Moreau tied the score with a field goal from 29 yards out.

In the third period, the Tigers embarked on a 47-yard drive to the Tulane 10-yard-line. When the drive bogged down, Moreau tallied another three-pointer, this time from 27 yards away from the goal posts.

Halfback Joe Labruzzo added the rest of the score in the fourth quarter when he scored from the three. Moreau contributed the final point toward the win.

Doug Moreau (80) was the Tigers' primary pass receiver, but Tulane defenders (80) and (86) move in quickly.

LSU 14 MISS ST 10

TIGER STADIUM; November 14, 1964

Mississippi State left halfback Rhoden swept right end and charged 76 yards for the touchdown on the first play from scrimmage, with 46 seconds elapsed. Canale's extra point try was good, and the score stood 7-0 against the Tigers at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter, the Bengals came back strongly. Moreau grabbed a Screen pass in the end zone with only four seconds gone, but failed to make the extra point. Seven minutes later, he was Screen's receiver again and once again, the first for a touchdown and the second successful two point conversion.

The Tigers held their opponents to a single field goal in the last half, keeping the lead and the game by a score of 14-10.

LSU 6 FLORIDA 20

TIGER STADIUM; December 5, 1964

With an invitation to host the Sugar Bowl already under their belts, the Tigers fell before Florida by a score of 20-6. The game which brought the Tigers' season record to 7-1-2, had been delayed because of Hurricane Hilda.

In the first period, Florida drove 70 yards for a TD and point after. Early in the second quarter, Doug Moreau kicked his first field goal of the evening from 25 yards out. But Florida scored again on a 33 yard pass play and conversion soon after.

Moreau tallied another three points with a 32-yarder during the third period, while the Tigers defensively permitted Florida to drive 70 yards in 10 plays for yet another touchdown and PAT. The teams held each other well during the final period to leave the score at 20-6.

SUGAR BOWL

SYRACUSE 2

The Tigers climaxed the 1964 grid season with a hard-won victory in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Day. The Bengals overcame a stunning 10-2 Syracuse lead under the scoring leadership of end Doug Moreau.

Although the Orange offensive backs Floyd Little and Jim Nance were highly rated, the only touchdown was a defensive play. Orangeman Dennis Reilly blocked a Buster Brown punt late in the first period and scooted 35 yards for the score. Earlier Roger Smith had booted a 23-yard field goal.

George Rice nailed Little in the Orange end zone between the Syracuse scores for a two-point safety. Billy Ezell connected with Moreau on a 57-yard pass play for the Tiger touchdown and then passed to Joe Labruzzo for the two-point conversion. Moreau later added the final three points with a perfect 28-yarder.

"Presenting the pride of Louisiana—The GOLDEN BAND for Tigerland—Louisiana State University's Tiger Band!", and down the field storm 160 high-stepping bandsmen producing the "big sound" which won acclaim at each half-time performance. This year the band under its new Director, William F. Swor, performed at all games, excluding Kentucky.

"And now, presenting the South's loveliest coeds, Tigerland's own Golden Girls!", a fanfare, the cape unveiling, a "Wow!" from the male football fans, an "Isn't that cute?" from the female fans, and into a swing-out dance routine go the GOLDEN GIRLS. To the choreography of Shelby Cox our shapely coeds received due notice in a special article of Newsweek Magazine.

TIGER BAND

The aggregate, including the featured baton twirling of Scarlet Scarle and Ron Lacy, traveled to Houston (Rice), Birmingham (Alabama), and New Orleans for the Tulane massacre. The half-time show of the regionally televised Tennessee game saw the band joined by Pete Fountain for some big sound—Dixieland. Back to New Orleans again for the Sugar Bowl, the band faced National T.V. on New Year's Day.

The Tiger Band is considered by many to be the finest in the Southeastern Conference. Coupling spectacular pageantry and precision drill the Tiger Band has produced a strong backing for the team, an attribute to the school, and a personal accomplishment for each individual member.

Saluting New Orleans, the Golden Band from Tigerland pours itself into a cafe-au-lait formation at the 1965 Sugar Bowl Classic.

Band Night culminates in the familiar parting formation as statewide high school bands spell out "LS.U." across the field.

It was a moderate year for the Tiger basketball team as they compiled a 12-14 overall record. Big Dick Maile had another fine year as he led the team to many of its victories, averaging 17.1 points a game even though he was injured for several games. Maile was also selected a member of the All-SEC First Team. Junior Harry Heroman was a stand-out all season as he tallied 14.4 a game.

The SEC was tough this year with such fine teams as Tennessee and Vanderbilt. The squad under head coach Jay McCreary, managed only a 7-9 SEC record. Next year the cagers look forward to an improved record as Heroman, Ken Drost, Brad Brian, and Tommy Thigpen all return to the team.

FRESHMEN BASKETBALL

The freshman cagers spent a hustling Thanksgiving in Guatemala the year, travelling there to take games from local Guatemala teams. In addition, the team, led by Pete Henry who averaged 17.7 points a game, compiled a final record of 9-7. Buddy Shirley and Herbie Mang were also standouts averaging 17.5 and 13.5 points respectively.

TRACK 1965

Coach Joe May's varsity track team turned in several stellar performances in 1964. In the SEC Indoor Meet, the squad took third place; at the traditional LSU Invitational Meet, the trackmen took second. 1963's outstanding hurdler Billy Hardin closed out his career as an L.S.U. trackman by running in the 440 yard hurdles at the Olympic Games in Tokyo. He was the 1964 400 Meter Hurdles champion as he turned in the winning performance at 50.2 seconds.

Despite a lack of depth, the '65 squad should win many individual victories. Leland Albright, already national champion in the 600 yard indoor run, will be pushing for the world record in that event. Also adding strength to the squad will be Robert Cavanaugh at the 440, Randy Geyer in the high jump. In the pole vault Pete Boudreaux will be aiming for the 16 foot mark. Coming up from the freshman ranks to sure stardom is Delman McNabb who throws the javelin over 250 feet, a winning mark in any meet. A SEC championship is not too far from view. The 1965 team rates superior to the previous L.S.U. squad, which finished third in the SEC championships.

BASEBALL

Last season, Tiger baseballers compiled an 11-11-1 record overall. Posting wins over such opponents as Alabama, Mississippi State, and Tulane in the SEC, to close the season with an SEC mark of 5-7. No doubt the final record was something of a disappointment to the squad, compared with the previous season's 16-10 overall. However, with such outstanding letterman as Bob Stewart, Joe Moock, and Pat Screen, the Tigers can well look forward to a promising 1965. Stewart was a standout in all departments, leading the team in hits, batting average (.302), RBI's (16), and on base most often (49).

In addition, the varsity squad is sure to benefit from the addition of Ken Schuetz, Joe Loge, and Jack Anchor from the freshman rank. All three had perfect pitching records in 1964.

As Jim Waldrop begins his third season as head coach, the baseball team will be trying to improve on the past season. Prospects are bright and the squad will be shooting for a mark inside their 1963 fourth place SEC finish.

Catcher Ron Rousseau, a power hitter, called the signals.

Hard-throwing pitcher, Van Quigley, won three games and also did extra duty in right field.

Harry Morel provided a sure catch, a quick throw, and led the Tigers in doubles.

Another fine season was turned in by Joe Moock as he led the Tigers in hits with 26.

GOLF

The '64 L.S.U. linksters were a bright spot in the minor sports of the University. In addition to an excellent 6-2 match record the team garnered impressive victories as they won the Buckhalts Tournament and the L.S.U. Invitational. With wins over Rice, Alabama, Tulane, and Ole Miss, the golfers took a strong second place in the SEC Tournament. A hard schedule will face the '65 team, but perhaps Coach Harry Taylor can see an SEC championship on the horizon.

TENNIS

The 1964 Tiger netters' 5-7 record was a definite improvement over the previous season. Led by junior Rex Darling, the squad won over such formidable opponents as Kentucky, Vanderbilt, and Ole Miss. With the team playing fourteen matches 1965 promises to be another improved season for Coach W. T. Robinson's players. Standouts for the coming season should include David Romer, Joe Hubbard, David Longmire, Fred Simoneaux.

An exciting basketball season is an important part of fraternity athletic programs.

Volleyball action is a highlight of the WRA sports year.

INTRAMURALS

"A healthy mind—a strong body," supplementing the goals of the academic aspect of the university, L.S.U. intramural sports round out the individual according to this classical ideal. From girls' volleyball to archery to pocket billiards to Fraternity competition, the program offers all students a profitable diversion for spare moments. There has recently been pressure on campus from those students not already fully occupied by sports and studies to form a new intramural competition. Other intramural action included bowling, swimming, riflery, gymnastics, wrestling, and football.

With the opening of the Union, another sport has been added to the intramural program.

Goals and standards, ethics and levels, are the proclaimed aims of the majority of campus organizations. In fact, they are a trading ground for friendship, brotherhood, and a deeper, richer understanding of human relations. In this realm they function well.

Student organizations offer a wide variety of activities and affiliations not available through any other phase of campus life. A group in a dormitory are put there by chance. They have an opportunity to exchange mores, attitudes, standards, and justifications—but campus organizations are placed together by choice; and thus have more than a chance for benefit from mutual exchange. They have a common drive and a common goal—be it technical, political or social. It is in this manner the large number of organizations compliment not only each other but also the educational activities of Louisiana State University.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Council, an organization composed of two delegates from each sorority on campus, endeavors "to maintain on a high plane fraternity life and inter-fraternity relationships, to cooperate with college authorities in their efforts to maintain high social and scholastic standards throughout the whole college, and to be a forum for the discussion of questions of interest to the college and fraternity world."

The Panhellenic Council is an active organization on campus. Not only does the Council plan the sorority

Rush Program and compile rules on rushing, pledging, and initiation, but it devotes time and effort in helping with several charity groups. It helped collect old clothes for the Junior League's Nearly Nu Shop, made a sizable donation to the American Red Cross Hurricane Hilda Relief Fund, and participated in the Muscular Dystrophy Drive. As part of its scholastic program, the Panhellenic Council presents two scholastic awards each year and gives the Nora Neill Power Award to the Outstanding Junior Woman. The Council, as part of its fraternity education program, plans and directs each spring a Panhellenic Workshop in which all sorority women participate. Through these many activities, the Louisiana State University Panhellenic Council has achieved many of its goals.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Eager to begin the year's activities, Alpha Chis met at the Capitol House in preparation for Fall rush. The returning to shore of the leis from our South Pacific Party was to us a prediction that many would return to Alpha Chi shores. And just as those leis were drawn inland, so were our new pledges engulfed by the bond of Alpha Chi Omega.

The events which the Alpha Chis will remember of the 1964-65 year are: Initiation, Founders' Day Banquet, Captive breakfast, Halloween party, Houseparty, Christmas parties, the Hayride, the Golden Lyre Ball, first place in Jambalaya Jamboree, the Pledge Tea for alums, actives, the Dean of Women's Office; and Hera Day, celebrated with a party at the Cerebral Palsy Center where self-help toys made by the Alpha Chis were distributed to the children.

The Alpha Chi girl is a girl of many talents. This is proven in the various honors which she receives. Among them are ROTC sponsors, Union committee members, honorary academic fraternity members, nominees for Dorm Darling and Homecoming Queen, members of fraternity courts, FFA Queen, GUMBO favorite, finalists in the Darling contest, and Bengal Belles.

As we look back to a year well spent, somehow the past is dimmed, for the future promises the realization of a dream long cherished—a house for Alpha Chi.

ALPHA DELTA PI

"With you we would share this pin that we wear,

The diamond and two golden stars . . ."

Alpha Delta Pi began the year with Rush Workshop at The Inn in Opelousas. Then rush week brought many new girls to Omega who chose to wear the Golden Lion pledge pin of Alpha Delta Pi, the oldest secret sorority for college women.

Activities began in September with a pledge supper, followed by several getting-acquainted parties, Fall initiation, houseparty, the Christmas party sponsored by the patronesses, the annual alumnae-sponsored "Guide for Brides" fashion show, Initiation ceremonies and banquet honoring the new actives, the Spring Formal, and the Founders' Day Banquet.

Many outstanding members have represented Alpha Delta Pi in all phases of campus activity. We are proud of our membership in Mortar Board, ROTC sponsors, members of Angel Flight and Scotch Guard, Bengal Belles, Women's Recreational Association officers, GUMBO staff members; presidents of West Hall, Acadian Hall, and the French House; Bengalette members; and Freshman Advisors.

With the start of our second fifty years on campus, Omega chapter looks to the future with the constant awareness of the full meaning of our motto, "We live for each other."

ALPHA EPSILON PHI

After a successful fall house party and Rush, Alpha Theta of Alpha Epsilon Phi welcomed its biggest pledge class in the 27 year history of the chapter on campus.

As soon as Rush was over, the Phis immediately began working on scholarship. Study halls were held in the library, and several scholarship seminars were held throughout first semester. Dean Helen B. Gordon was the speaker at one of these seminars. Teams of big and little sisters worked diligently on their grades to win the scholarship cup given at the annual steak and hamburger dinner.

As a special chapter charity project, the Phis adopted a cottage at the Pinecrest State School for the Mentally Retarded, and each month the chapter did something for the girls in the cottage.

Pledges and actives worked closely together and participated in many activities. The Phis participated in WRA, SGA, AWS, and Union committees; Hillel; Lambda; Delta Gamma Delta; and the Panhellenic Council.

Alpha Theta was proud to have nominees for Homecoming queen and Darling, the president of Hillel, a member of the Panhellenic Judicial Board, an ROTC sponsor, a Bengalette, scholarship winners and fraternity sweethearts.

None of the Phis will ever forget such memorable occasions as the pledging and initiation banquets, Founders' Day Reception, the annual formal and spring house party. Through working together the motto of AEPhi "Many hearts . . . one purpose" was realized.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

After a whirl of summer houseparties in New Orleans and Baton Rouge, the Alpha Omicron of AOPi swung into Rush with their characteristic high spirit. At the close of Rush an enthusiastic group of pledges and actives began adding to a lifetime of memories in the "Land of AOPi."

Never to be forgotten were the various social events which helped to make firm the bonds of friendship in AOPi. Few of us could forget our many formal and informal activities and projects. The picnics at Fort Hudson, houseparties, "Captive Pledge" breakfasts, "Trick or Treat" outings, car washes, Mardi Gras activities, and community sings were swingin'; and everyone enjoyed the Founders' Day Banquet, Seniors' Breakfast, and Housemothers' Tea. The highlights of the year, the Mid-Winter Yuletide Dance and the Spring Rose Formal were the final touches to a wonderful year.

The girls who wear the ruby are truly active in all phases of campus life: WRA competitions, Freshman Advisors, dorm officers, Ballet Corps and Bengalettes members, A Capella Choir, and Beauty Court nominees. AOPi girls are also chairmen and members of various SGA, Union, and religious council organizations.

It is with great pride that sisters in AOPi advance from wearing the wheat sheaf to the badge of the ruby and the rose. This has been another year of Alpha love, fun, and loyalty in Alpha Omicron Pi.

ALPHA XI DELTA

"All aboard the Alpha Queen!" was the call as Beta Iota chapter commenced its 27th year at LSU with a showboat skit. The LSU chapter is one of 113 college chapters of Alpha Xi Delta, one of the first ten fraternities to organize the National Panhellenic Council. A tradition of campus achievement is recognized in its rolls boasting of members in Mu Sigma Rho, Psi Chi, Phi Alpha Theta, Delta Gamma Delta, Lambda, A Cappella Choir, Tau Beta Sigma, Tiger Band, A.C.E., S.N.E.A., Bengal Belles, Freshman Advisors, Dean's List, Union Committees, Panhellenic Committees, W.R.A., and the Gymnastics team.

A tradition of sisterhood and activities brightened up the year with such events as: "Secret Sister Week," the Pledge Banquet, "Big-Little Sister Ceremony," "Sack Suppers," a "Kidnap Breakfast," the Steak and Beans scholarship dinner, the Christmas Formal, State Day, the Spring Rose Formal, and Houseparties. A special tradition was begun this past fall. In connection with the Alpha Xi Delta National Philanthropy, a premanent relationship has been established between the Beta Iota chapter and the Baton Rouge Protestant Girls' Home.

The Beta Iota chapter plans to attend Alpha Xi Delta's National Convention in Houston this summer to conclude a thrilling year in the tradition of "Fun, Friends, and Loyalty" that makes Alpha Xi Delta not only a social sorority, but a way of life for the girls who wear the Golden Quill.

CHI OMEGA

The tawny grey owl again welcomed the Chi Omegas back to LSU. The 54 new pledges soon came to know and love the X and the Horseshoe, as the song, "A Chi O girl is one you would like to know . . ." became a realization.

Chi Omega sisters will always remember rush workshops . . . the 1964-65 pledge class . . . family day . . . the "apple-polishing" party for the faculty . . . "Pump for Polio" . . . Christmas party . . . senior banquet . . . spring formal . . . Christmas and Easter parties for orphans . . . friend picnic . . . national convention.

Chi Omegas proved to be outstanding in all phases of campus life this year. The sorority is proud of holding first place in both scholarship and athletics . . . of four GUMBO favorites . . . of members of Mortar Board . . . of many freshman advisers . . . of ten members and three officers in Alpha Lambda Delta . . . of members of Who's Who . . . of a varsity cheerleader . . . of chairmen of the LSU Union Program Council and a member of the Council . . . of two fraternity sweethearts . . . of college officers . . . of GUMBO section editors . . . of officers and members of Scotch Guard and Angel Flight . . . of chairman and members of the AWS Judicial Board.

But aside from activities on campus, there is a depth in Chi Omega which goes beneath the glitter of University honors—Chi Omega remains a true sisterhood, each girl contributing to a symphony of high purposes and helpfulness, in which there is no discordant note.

and so forever:

"Carnation white gleams through the night,
Brings back those bright sunny days
Eternity, fraternity . . . Chi Omega, always . . ."

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Fall, 1964, found the Tri Deltas in Opelousas to renew the spirit which characterizes each Tri Delt rush season. Later, at LSU, fifty-four girls said "yes" to "Tri Delta, What Do You Say?"

Social activities were the Founders' Day Banquet...Smarty Parties...fraternity pledge exchanges...Tri Psi chicken fry...houseparty at Windy Bend...presentation of pledges at the Spring Formal...plans for our new home...and initiation of lifetime sisters.

The chapter presents a scholarship each year to an LSU Coed. The "beauty of service" is realized in correspondence with our little foster child in Japan. Of course, there is still time and energy remaining for service projects in the community.

Tri Deltas are proud to claim the outstanding transfer student... Winter Show Queen and first runner up... Mortar Board members... Vice President of the College of Education... Vice President and Secretary-Treasurer of the School of Music... Cheerleader... AWS officers... President and Chairman of WRA... members and officers of Scotch Guard and Angel Flight... Treasurer of Panhellenic... members of Bengalettes... and Block and Bridle Rodeo court.

Thus we are able to attain the dream of our founders, "that Tri Delta may be something distinctive, something dynamic, something worthy of the best that is in us, not only now but always."

DELTA GAMMA

Siliman College in Clinton was the scene of preparations which led to Gamma Zeta's successful rush week and the enlarging of our sisterhood by 54 wonderful pledges.

Delta Gammas are proud to claim members in every phase of campus life: Members of Alpha Lambda Delta, Mu Sigma Rho, Scotch Guard, three members of Mortar Board; members of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Morale Commission, and the President of Associated Women's Students; officers in dormitories and Student Government, three Union Committee Chairmen, ROTC sponsors and fraternity sweethearts and court members. Gamma Zeta shares pride in trophies we have won at Songfest, Jambalaya Jamboree and Sigma Chi Pirogue Derby.

Delta Gamma's social calendar is highlighted by the sorority's own special events, including: fraternity exchanges, fall houseparty, and the Christmas Party given for the Brownie Troop at the Louisiana School for the Blind. In the spring we enjoy Initiation, Founders' Day Banquet, the Golden Anchor Ball, and Spring Houseparty at Gulf Hills Dude Ranch in Biloxi.

When college has ended, these memories will linger as Delta Gammas carry with them the high ideals of sisterhood symbolized by the Golden Anchor.

DELTA ZETA

"Delta Zeta lamps are burning . . ."

The Grecian lamp of ancient Rome even today casts its spell over the lives of the girls who hold its meaning so close to their hearts. To the girls who wear the lamp and carry the Killarney Rose, Delta Zeta means more than any creed could designate or any constitutional decree.

Happiness to a Delta Zeta means Fall House Parties with the vigilante attacks, hay rides, kidnap breakfasts, anticipation of sorority houses, and the many honors which are brought into the chapter.

Honors come to Delta Zeta in all forms: scholarships such as the Dean Lee Agriculture Scholarship and the Wolf Baking Scholarship, members of honor societies such as Theta Sigma Pi, Mu Sigma Rho and Phi Upsilon

Omicron, officers in various colleges, in Delta Gamma Delta and in dormitories. Our girls are in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, on Mortar Board and on the GUMBO Staff.

Delta Zetas are Panhellenic President, Darling of LSU and first runner-up to Darling, in the Lambda Chi Alpha Court, Phi Kappa Theta Court, Golf Court, Engineering Court, International Queen Court, Rodeo Court, and Scherezade Court. Titles of Miss Holiday in Dixie and Sugar Queen in Louisiana reside within the chapter.

In these honors, campus activities, and the sorority life of Delta Zeta, members find satisfaction, love and the feeling of sisterhood with each girl who wears the lamp of Delta Zeta.

GAMMA PHI BETA

This has been a busy second year for Gamma Lambda Chapter at LSU; one of fun, hard work, and of growing sisterhood. Following an exciting and successful rush, the new pledges were introduced to the various phases of sorority life which included a Homecoming open house, Halloween and Christmas parties, Founders' Day Banquet, houseparty, kidnap picnic, pledge exchanges, service projects, a spring formal, and many informal parties and activities.

Gamma Phi's may also be found in all phases of campus life: Union and SGA committees, intramural activity through WRA, freshman advisors, as members of Alpha Lambda Delta and Mu Sigma Rho, honorary fraternities, Lambda and Delta Gamma Delta intersororities, Bengal-ettes, ROTC sponsors, various religious and political organizations, as well as participating in the campus talent show.

The sorority house to be opened in the near future has been a favorite topic of conversation this year; members may often be overheard enthusiastically discussing possible floor plans and decor. Gamma Phi Beta is anticipating a bright future filled with friendship, service, fun, and scholastic achievement.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

A year of many new dimensions—growth and further distinction on the campus; a year of increased participation in campus activities—Associated Women Students, Darling Court, Student Government Association, Judicial Board, dorm officers, Freshman Advisors, ROTC sponsors, Scotch Guard, Angel Flight, Women's Recreation Association chairmanships, campus elections, first in Tiger Tantrums, Songfest; additional members in numerous professional and honorary organizations—Who's Who, Mortar Board, Alpha Lambda Delta; a year of more organization and activities with the sorority—a philanthropy, the School for the Blind, a pledge banquet, a skating party, a scholarship banquet, Founders' Day celebration, Spring and Fall houseparties; a year the Thetas of Delta Kappa chapter will always remember with a feeling of pleasure and accomplishment, with awe and some anxiety, with exhaustion, with elation and, always, with a sense of thankfulness to those who have helped us. We wait for the next year.

KAPPA DELTA

This fall 54 outstanding girls "followed the Yellow Brick Road" to become a part of the Kappa Delta sisterhood. These new KDs and all the other chapter members immediately began sharing the fun and excitement that is Kappa Delta. Such activities as the Fall Houseparty, Founders Day Banquet, Jambalaya Jamboree, surprise parties and numerous holiday parties were only a few of the activities which saw the various chapter members gathered together in fun and friendship. Kappa Delta was also conscientious about the more serious aspects of LSU life, which included such things as sorority scholarship.

Kappa Delta members were active on SGA committees, Student Union committees, intersorority groups, many honorary and professional organizations and military organizations such as Scotch Guard, Angel Flight, and as sponsors. Outstanding organizations leaders included members of the LSU disciplinary committee, secretary of the Union Program Council, two members in Who's Who, dormitory, class and college officers, including the secretary of Junior Division, and the vice president of AWS. Other KDs are Pi Kappa Alpha Calendar Girls, members of various fraternity sweetheart courts, and the Louisiana State University Dorm Darling.

KDs are anxiously awaiting the day when they can move into the new Kappa Delta House to be completed this fall.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Loyalty, sincerity, and friendship are represented by the golden key. Scholarship and leadership are the goals for which the wearers of the key strive.

On and off campus Kappas have won many honors. Our members have held such positions as commanders of Scotch Guard and Angel Flight, chairmen of SGA committees, officers in their respective colleges, and dormitory officers. Other members are in Mortar Board and in honorary scholastic societies. Last year's chapter president is now a national field secretary for Kappa. Also, one of the four LSU winners of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation Scholarships for 1964-65 was a Kappa. Kappas were also included in the nominees for LSU Darling, Dorm Darling, and Rodeo Court. Several Kappas have also been honored by being in various fraternity sweetheart courts.

Of course, Kappas always enjoy participating in Jambalaya Jamboree, the Student Rodeo, Songfest, and WRA games.

Kappa sisterhood is loyal and closely knit; and the wearers of the golden key will always cherish its memories.

PHI MU

Phi Mu began its 30th year on campus in the true spirit of Phi Mu, promoting leadership, scholarship, and true sisterhood. Among our sisters we are proud to claim the Coed Vice-President of the Student Government Association, fraternity sweethearts, ROTC sponsors, transfer and freshman advisors, dormitory and college officers, Outstanding Freshman Woman in the College of Agriculture, Alpha Lambda Delta members, members of Scotch Guard, Bengalettes, Mortar Board, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and the renowned "Phi Mu Washtub Band" which has played for many Baton Rouge and campus events.

During the year, pledge kidnap breakfasts, slumber parties, workshop, houseparty, picnics, Christmas dance, and our annual formal all draw us closer together. As sisters we find strength in the Bond of Phi Mu—a bond built on love, honor, truth—the highest ideals of womanhood. We have complete faith in the permanence of such basic aims as Phi Mu emphasizes—scholarship, leadership, service, self-discipline, citizenship, integrity and friendship. And we expect the Phi Mu story to be told forever after.

PI BETA PHI

The golden arrow of Pi Beta Phi represents the true sisterhood of 134 girls bound by common ideals and interests in the wine and silver-blue. For each girl there is a feeling of loyalty and friendship to last throughout her life.

The primary goal of each Pi Beta Phi is achievement in scholarship, leadership, and true friendship. Many of our members have attained positions of leadership on campus such as President of Mortar Board, Commander of Angel Flight, and Queen of Education Day. We proudly claim the ROTC "Little Colonel" for 1963-1964 as well as other sponsors and members of Angel Flight and Scotch Guard. Our members enjoy actively participating in the Union committees, Student Government Association, Associated Women Students, and Women's Recreational Association. We have freshman advisors, members of honorary scholastic organizations, and dorm and college officers. In addition to these scholastic and leadership activities, we have a varsity cheerleader, Homecoming Queen, many fraternity sweethearts, and GUMBO favorites.

Our sisterhood is a closely knit one which we will always cherish, especially in remembering:

"Pi Phi lights anew

The flame of friendship true.

The joys we've had in knowing you
Will last our whole lives through."

ZETA TAU ALPHA

1965 has been a banner year for Zeta Tau Alpha. Delta Kappa Chapter began its sixth year with a bang by taking quota during Formal Rush.

Throughout the year, Zetas were outstanding in all phases of campus life: Mortar Board, members of Who's Who, an officer in Alpha Lambda Delta, members of Mu Sigma Rho, members and officers of many other campus honoraries, editor of the GUMBO, Union and SGA committee members and officers, and ROTC sponsors.

Zetas also have their share of beauties: nominees for the Darling, members of fraternity sweetheart courts, the Agriculture court, a PiKA Calendar Girl, five members of the "Golden Girls," and for the second year, a member of the Homecoming Court.

All year the girls of Zeta Tau Alpha had fun with such activities as an old-fashioned ice cream party, a pizza party, fall and spring houseparties, and finally the Zeta Tau Alpha Formal.

All Zetas wear the turquoise and silver carpenter's square pledge pin or the crown and shield of an active with justifiable pride.

LAMBDA

A local intersorority founded on the LSU campus, Lambda works throughout the year toward its goal of promoting the Panhellenic spirit through greater opportunities for friendship and fun. Membership in Lambda is composed of four representatives from each sorority who are selected by their sorority on the basis of leadership and congeniality.

Lambda meetings usually consist of programs of interest to sorority women as well as business meetings. Each year Lambda sponsors a Transfer Party for all sorority transfers to introduce them informally to campus life. In the spring, at the Panhellenic Conference, Lambda sponsors an award which is given to the Most Outstanding Transfer. The selection of the recipient of this award is based on academic achievement and extra-curricular activities at LSU.

As well as offering opportunities for enrichment of the fraternity woman's life through new friendships, Lambda offers enrichment through its philanthropic projects, of which the largest is at Christmas time.

Third row: Lynn Everett, Sandra Kay Guyton, Daphne Ann Hilton, Patricia Monk. Fourth row: Ann D. Neel, Sherry Stagg, Evelyn Terry, Sara Patterson.

DELTA GAMMA DELTA

A local intersorority founded on the LSU campus in 1916, Delta Gamma Delta works throughout the year toward its goal of improving intersorority relations through friendship and fun. Membership in Delta Gamma Delta is composed of five representatives from each sorority, selected on the basis of leadership, congeniality, and character.

After pledging each semester, candidates for membership are seen carrying the red devil's cap, the sign of their pledgeship, and carrying the traditional "goodie-bag" of treats for active members. A week's pre-initiation fun closes as the new initiates receive their gold devil's-head pin.

Delta Gamma Delta's activities include service projects and gifts to the University, as well as charity projects at holiday seasons. A special project, adopted in 1964, is to honor the staffs of the Dean of Women's office and the dormitories. Flowers were sent to the dormitory head residents for holiday occasions and a luncheon was held in their honor.

Meetings of Delta Gamma Delta include programs of interest to sorority women and provide an opportunity for friendship and fun. The year's activities are climaxed by an annual softball game with Lambda, archival of Delta Gamma Delta.

INTERFRATERNITY ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Athletic Council, composed of one member of each of the social fraternities, is solely responsible for the fraternity athletic program. Its members work in close conjunction with Harry A. Taylor, director of the Intramural Sports Department, and his staff in achieving their purpose of creating better feeling among fraternities through interfraternity athletics.

Trophies and other awards are presented to the fraternities at the annual Water Show, which culminates the fraternity athletic season. The sports under IFAC direction are football, golf, basketball, handball, ping-pong, volleyball, track, tennis, badminton, softball, and swimming.

Fraternities compete with each other according to size. The 10 larger fraternities form the Purple Bracket, while the smaller 10 compete in the Gold Bracket.

The Interfraternity Council was created through a common effort toward a more responsible and coordinated fraternity system at LSU. The primary function of the IFC is to act as the governing body of the fraternities. It is composed of two representatives from each of the twenty-one social fraternities on campus, one of which is the president of his fraternity.

Functions of the IFC include the drawing up of fall rules and policies which pertain to the member fraternities. Rush Week, including its rules and regulations, is a responsibility which the IFC assumes. The interest of the IFC carries over into the pledge-training program as the IFC encourages scholarship by presenting an annual award to the pledge class with the highest scholastic average. A great emphasis is placed on pledge training since these men determine the future of every fraternity. Further activities include the composition of a yearly NIC Competition Report and the printing of an Annual Report which serves to educate, evaluate and publicize the actions of the fraternity system.

Along with its leadership in campus activities, the IFC participates actively in community projects and charity drives. The annual Baton Rouge Kiwanis Club Pancake Day for the benefit of nonprofit organizations, the Muscular Dystrophy drive, the United Givers Fund drive are only a few of the worthwhile projects to which the IFC makes a contribution. An annual Greek Week is organized to devote the entire fraternity system's efforts toward community needs.

ACACIA

The Acacia Fraternity was founded in 1904 at Ann Arbor, Mich., and the Louisiana State chapter was chartered on Feb. 11, 1956. In the short time that Acacia has been on campus it has won many awards, including firsts in Homecoming skits and decorations, Songfest activities, and Gold Bracket athletics for the second time.

Acacians have acquired many honors on campus, including membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, Student Government Association positions, the producers of all three student musicals, Union committee heads, membership on the Reveille staff, the presidency of the College of Engineering and numerous other positions.

The social program is headlined by the Black and Gold Formal, the Pledge Formal, Night on the Nile, Playboy Party, football parties and various other activities throughout the year.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Founded in 1865 by three young Confederate veterans, Alpha Tau Omega has become a distinguished national fraternity, bringing a true and lasting brotherhood to men of both the North and the South.

Formerly Theta Kappa Beta, a local fraternity, the Epsilon Zeta Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega was established on the LSU campus in November 10, 1940. After going through the trying period of World War II, it took its place firmly among the other fraternities on campus. When the original house burned in 1949, the men of ATO once again proved themselves brothers by uniting their strongest efforts while the building of a new house took place. With the cooperation of the alumni, the second chapter house was built, only to be sold and greater efforts formulated towards the creation of a third and even more elaborate house for the steadily increasing chapter to call home. The new house completed in August of 1964, houses thirty-eight men. The new house is completely air-conditioned, has its own laundry, and has individual patios for each wing. With the brothers once again united under one roof, the theme of brotherhood is even more greatly valued. ATO finds itself confident and competent; a spirit of responsibility has shown itself among the brothers.

Besides the football parties, the orphan's party, the Christmas party, the Founder's Day Banquet, and the Spring Formal, all the Tau's enjoy the traditional Bayou Brawl, by far the most outstanding social event of the year.

Social participation is never lacking in ATO. ATO is proud of its chapter and proud of ASU. "And ever we'll be loyal to the Azure and the Gold."

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

Delta Kappa Epsilon, founded in 1844, established Zeta Zeta chapter 14 years later at Centenary College in Jackson. The entire chapter membership enlisted en masse in the Confederate Army. During the Civil War, many Dekes gave their lives for the South. It was not until 1923 that the present chapter was revived at LSU by the Friars Club. Since that time Zeta Zeta has been outstanding in every phase of campus life.

The Dekes are known nationally for their ability to have a good time and give the best parties. The LSU Dekes are no exception. The high spirit which dominates LSU has been reflected at the many social functions of the Dekes. Not only are their football parties acclaimed by everyone on campus, but other festivities such as the Christmas Party, the Bowery Party, the Dogpatch Party and the Covington Picnic highlight the social year. Of course, the traditional formal, held annually at the Mansion, is eagerly awaited by all.

However, life at the Deke house is not entirely one big party. Dekes are active in many other aspects of campus life. The large number of Dekes in honorary organizations attests to their academic attainment. They also assist in many philanthropic activities and each year treat the wards of a local orphanage to Christmas and Easter parties.

KAPPA ALPHA

Alpha Gamma chapter of Kappa Alpha Order, established at LSU in 1885, represents the romantic tradition of the Old South, and exemplifies excellence through leadership in scholarship, athletics, military and government. The new school year began with a very successful rush and a pledge class of the finest men on campus.

Activities of the Fall season opened with several successful Student Government Association campaigns, combined with weekly football parties both preceding and following the games. In the late Fall, the brothers of KA celebrated at the festive Christmas Party; January brought the observance of Robert E. Lee's birthday at the annual Convivium Banquet. Other social events highlighting the year were the Suppressed Desire Party, the Cowboy Party and the somewhat memorable Roman Party. The most unforgettable occasion of the year was the famous and beautiful Kappa Alpha Old South Ball. Preceding the ball itself was the formal delivery of invitations by uniformed Confederate soldiers on horseback. The secession ceremonies conducted at the Governor's Mansion were followed by a peaceful and symbolic Lawn Party at an old southern mansion. This, with the crowning of the beautiful Kappa Alpha Rose, leaves golden memories of a glorious age.

The annual Charity Bowl held in Tiger Stadium, as in the past, gave to the Goodfellows Fund a sum exceeding $1,000. The LSU KA's also maintained their top scholarship level on campus throughout the year.

Thus, another year has passed in the colorful traditions of Kappa Alpha Order with the high standards of life in the Old South.

KAPPA SIGMA

Beginning its 77th year on campus, Kappa Sigma distinguishes itself by being one of the oldest fraternities at LSU. From the original five members, Gamma chapter has grown in size until it now numbers more than 150 members.

Gamma began the 1964-65 school year with one of the best pledge classes in the history of the chapter. The Kappa Sigs continued their high achievement in campus activities by placing officers and members in prominent positions in the Student Government Association, Union, ROTC, athletic teams and numerous other honorary and religious organizations.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," so the saying goes; and at Kappa Sigma there are no dull boys. We realize that while our basic reason for being at LSU is to get an education, a well-rounded program of social activities is also necessary for these important formative years of our lives. Some of the chapter's highlights this year were the football parties, the Christmas Party, the Redhead Party, the Hillbilly Hoedown, the South Sea Island Party and the beautiful Starmist Formal at which the Kappa Sigma Dream Girl was presented.

Thus Kappa Sigs look with pride on their accomplishments, both campuswide and communitywide, and on the credit that the brothers bring to the fraternity system and to LSU.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded on March 22, 1909, at Boston University. This year Upsilon Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha celebrated its 50th anniversary on the LSU campus. Founded here on November 2, 1914, the Lambda Chi's have initiated more than 1100 members.

The 50th year has been a good one, starting with a first place in interfraternity songfest competition and a second place in Fraternity athletics. Socially, Lambda Chi is proud of the "party" reputation it has earned by giving such parties as the Jungle party, the Beatnik party, and the fall football parties. The highlights of the social season were the formal, held just before the Christmas holidays, and the 50th-anniversary celebration, held in the Spring. It is also Lambda Chi's distinction among fraternities that in 50 years of service to LSU it has never been placed on probation.

Throughout its 50 years on the LSU campus, many leaders, both on campus and in later life, have come through Lambda Chi Alpha. From Student Body presidents, ROTC commanders, IFC presidents and presidents of the various colleges, to Judges, Lawyers, Doctors, presidents of companies, politicians, and other important members of our society. We are looking forward to many more successful years as many more Lambda Chi's take their place in the world.

PHI DELTA THETA

Louisiana Beta of Phi Delta Theta celebrated its 26th year on Jan. 10 of this year. The 26 years have shown a great growth in the chapter.

This year Phi Delta Theta has placed leaders in all phases of University life: student government, honorary fraternities, Union activities, advanced ROTC, and religious groups.

Socially, Phi Delta Theta is also a leader on campus. Football parties and the Christmas Party were outstanding during the Fall. The Spring semester saw the annual Good Ship Phi Party and a number of other memorable parties.

Inspired by their past record, the Phi Delts continue to strive for more and greater achievements in their fraternity.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Though only in its 17th year on the LSU campus, Beta Rho chapter of Phi Gamma Delta has continued its successes and its drive for excellence. Rush week brought an excellent 40-man pledge class which brought membership to over 100 and insured that Beta Rho's tradition of accomplishment will continue.

Leadership in campus was again one of Phi Gamma Delta's strong points. Members were active in every phase of University life; Student Government and Union officers, athletics, ROTC, ODK, Phi Eta Sigma, and other honorary and service organizations. The chapter continued its superiority in scholarship by again winning the IFC trophy for the highest average among the larger fraternities.

The recently enlarged and air-conditioned house provided an excellent place for the exciting Fiji social calendar. Highlighting the list this year were the Christmas Party, the Norris Pig Dinner, the Black Diamond Formal, the Sloppy Joe parties, and the Fiji Island Ball, during which the whole house is converted into an exotic Pacific island. Phi Gamma Delta along with the other Fraternities, contributed to charity in place of the traditional Homecoming decorations.

Being one of the youngest parts of an old and prominent national fraternity, Beta Rho has exhibited tremendous growth in the few years it has been on the LSU campus. Not content to rest on laurels, the chapter's members are striving for even greater successes in the future.

PHI KAPPA THETA

The Xi Chapter of Phi Kappa Theta began the year with a most successful rush in which sixty-five new pledges accepted bids, setting one of the best records on campus.

The Phi Kapps are proud of their representation in all phases of university life. They claim the darling of LSU as their sweetheart, an officer in the Interfraternity Council, and various other Student Government associations and Union chairmen and committeemen. Xi Chapter is also well represented on the student council. Phi Kappa Theta has members on the football team, baseball team, Phi Eta Sigma, and advanced ROTC. Phi Kapps also hold various offices throughout the campus in their respective colleges. The brothers excel in various intramural athletics such as football, baseball, basketball, and track.

The Phi Kapp social calendar is always full of exciting activities such as football parties, the Dogpatch Party, South Sea Islands Party, Sweetheart Formal, and especially the annual Darling Banquet Honoring the Darling finalists.

Xi Chapter is continuing the spectacular growth which it began experiencing about five years ago which rocketed Phi Kapp into the position of one of the top chapters on the LSU campus in all phases of fraternity life.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Since its establishment on the LSU campus, Alpha Gamma chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha has held a position of leadership in both scholastic life and in relations with other Pi Kappa Alpha chapters. These high standards have been maintained through the dedication of Alpha Gamma brothers to those ideals of friendship, scholarship and decency upon which the fraternity was founded in the tradition of the Old South.

Pikes are involved in honor societies, student government, scholastic fraternities, religious fellowships, military organizations, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges and interfraternity activities. Pike alumni are outstanding in every field of endeavor.

Socially, Pikes' parties are renowned on campus. This year the round of rush parties resulted in one of the most vigorous and largest pledge classes ever. The fall days brought football games, highlighted by a buffet and dance. Other events included the Roman Party and the Dream Girl Formal.

Though the members of Pike can rightly be proud of their past, they do not dwell on it. In an expanding fraternity, the brightest prospects are always to the future; and Pi Kappa Alpha looks forward to a future of increased growth and leadership.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Louisiana Epsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is now enjoying its 98th year on the LSU campus. The SAE House was recently renovated and the brothers are still enjoying the idea of the new house.

This year SAE's hold various important positions on campus. Among these are two cheerleaders, four S.G.A. and Union Committee Chairmen, V.P. of Arts and Sciences, five varsity football players, two LSU basketball players, and one LSU track man. In addition, two SAE's are currently listed in Who's Who and an SAE is treasurer of the IFC. SAE is known for its participation in campus activities. Last year SAE played KA in the annual Charity Bowl. Brothers also headed the Greek Week program for the past two years, headed the muscular dystrophy drive, and rode bulls in the LSU Student Rodeo. There seems to be a SAE in every phase of campus life. Jambalaya Jamboree was another success for SAE. Kappa Kappa Gamma and SAE joined together to coin the Jamboree, putting on a minstrel show which took first place.

Playboy magazine has named Louisiana Epsilon's Beachcombers Ball as the top college fraternity party of the year. Other parties include: football parties, casual parties, a Viking party, a Christmas party and the Black and White Formal.

We of the Louisiana chapter feel that these aspects of social life, combined with the proper scholastic atmosphere found in the chapter and the idea of being a True Gentleman, are the ideas that keep SAE on top, not only at LSU, but around the nation.

SIGMA CHI

Since its founding in 1855, the growth and progress of Sigma Chi have made every member of the brotherhood proud of the international fraternity. No small part of this growth has been the Gamma Iota chapter, which was founded on the LSU campus in 1925.

The Sigs are especially proud of their "House of the Southern Woods" which was recently renovated, including complete air-conditioning. Having pledged one of the finest and largest pledge classes of the chapter's history, chapter spirit and social and intramural participation has reached a new high. If the Sigs win the intramural sweepstakes this year, they will retire their fourth sweepstakes trophy.

Socially, the traditional parties spotlighted the year in their usual manner. Football parties were the dominant feature in the fall followed by the Christmas Party and the various "theme" parties in the spring. Outstanding among these were the Playboy Party and the Milk and Doughnut Party. The annual Sweetheart Ball was climaxed with the crowning of the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. The campus-wide Pirogue Derby and Sorority Field Day provided the usual melee of thrills and laughter.

In campus activities, Sigs were outstanding with a Sig being the highest-ranking officer in the Army ROTC. Other Sigs served on the Union, Interfraternity Council, as varsity cheerleader, and in other clubs and honorary organizations. Others in the fraternity are active members of varsity baseball, football, and tennis teams.

SIGMA NU

Phi Chapter of Sigma Nu began its 77th year on campus as one of the oldest fraternities at LSU. The past year saw the continuance of Sigma Nu traditions of leadership, scholarship and athletic proficiency.

Sigma Nu began the year with a most successful rush program, pledging an unprecedented number of outstanding young men. The fraternity boasted the presidencies of both the IFC and the IFAC officers in the ROTC, Union chairmanships, and membership in other honorary and religious organizations.

1964-1965 found the Sigma Nus preparing for their most prized asset—the erection of a new house of Louisiana plantation-style architecture on the University

Lake. Intended to accommodate forty men, with game rooms, a library, Chapter room, and plenty of living room space, the house will be the beginning of a new era for the old traditions of Sigma Nu.

The year's social activities began with the football parties. In addition to the festive and unforgettable Christmas Party, there were a number of theme parties including the Jungle Party, the Roaring Twenties Party and the Horror Party. Several open houses and banquets were also held during the year for parents and faculty. Sigma Nu terminated its social calendar with the traditional White Rose Formal at which the Sweetheart of Sigma Nu was presented.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Louisiana Beta of Sigma Phi Epsilon is a young fraternity at LSU. The chapter was installed into the Brotherhood on April 8, 1961, after being established as a colony only two years before.

In the six years that Louisiana Beta has been on the LSU campus, it has steadily grown from seven to forty-six men. Acquiring a house on Fraternity Row only six months after being chartered Sigma Phi Epsilon has made extensive improvements, and is now planning renovation and addition in late September of 1965.

Brotherhood is exemplified in the constructive Pledge Education Program in which active members and pledges strive together for common goals. Among the goals attained last year were the Intramural Sportsmanship Trophy and the highest Pledge Class Average for the fall semester, 1963-64. In addition to scholarship and athletics, the chapter is well represented in ROTC, having three men in Scabbard and Blade and other military organizations.

The social life of the Sig Eps is highlighted by parties after home football games, Christmas parties, and spring costume parties, and climaxed by the Annual Golden Heart Ball.

The annual awards banquet honors outstanding Sig Eps for their contributions to the Brotherhood. Instituted last year, this is one of the highpoints of the fraternity's functions.

Behind the traditional Red Door, which is a sign of hospitality, the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon grow in true brotherhood by aspiring to the high ideals and morals upon which the fraternity is founded.

SIGMA PI

Sigma Pi fraternity was founded on January 26, 1897, at Vincennes, Indiana, to promote brotherhood and to develop the character of its members. Installed at LSU on May 24, 1936, the Alpha Kappa chapter had steadily grown until World War II. After the war, the chapter was reactivated and has enjoyed the prosperity of outstanding scholastic, athletic, and social activities. Scholastically, the members of the Alpha Kappa chapter have strived to increase the chapter's average. Several members had the honor of being on the Dean's List and many hold prominent positions in honorary fraternities. The chapter enjoys a complete athletic program with competition in all intramural activities. Socially, our members enjoy a full calendar of social events. Pre-game and post-game football parties highlight the Fall season. The Spring semester included hayrides, a Las Vegas party, a Hawaiian Luau and concluded with our annual Orchard Ball, at which time the fraternity sweetheart was presented.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Since its founding at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 10, 1899, Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity has grown to be the largest national fraternity and the first international fraternity in the world. The fraternity has more than 210 chapters in the United States and Canada. Throughout its history, Teke has led the field in almost every aspect of fraternity progress.

Beta Phi chapter since its founding on the LSU campus in 1949 has had a remarkable record of both achievement and leadership. This year it can boast one of the largest and finest pledge classes on campus. At the annual Leadership Conference of the Louisiana-Mississippi Province, Beta Phi Chapter took awards for the Best Chapter, Best Scholarship and Best Display. In extracurricular activities, Tekes hold top positions in their colleges, ROTC, Union and SGA Committees and numerous honorary fraternities.

Included on the fraternity's social calendar are the before and after-football parties, the Lambda Alpha Gamma Delta Alpha Gamma Nu Christmas Party, the Red Carnation Ball, the French Sewer Party and numerous other theme parties.

Although rightfully proud of its heritage, TKE will continue to look to the future for increased leadership and growth in the finest sense of fraternal brotherhood and loyalty.

THETA XI

Theta Xi Fraternity, founded at Rensselaer Institute in 1864, is the only social fraternity founded during the Civil War. From its beginnings, Theta Xi has grown to over seventy-five chapters located throughout the United States. The brothers of Alpha Alpha Chapter have made Theta Xi a leader on campus in both social and academic life.

The excellent social season at Theta Xi begins each year with the football parties and the first semester is climaxed by the annual Christmas party. The second semester high spots are the Formal and the Shipwreck Party. During the Shipwreck Party, the entire house is transformed into a pirate ship with the members as cast-aways and pirates.

In fraternity athletics, Theta Xi claimed the Gold Bracket football title for the second straight year. Scholarastically, the chapter has also excelled by winning the annual scholarship trophy for the highest grade point average of all fraternities.

With an excellent pledge class of twenty-eight men, the brothers of Theta Xi plan to make this year at LSU the best ever, and to keep the spirit of brotherhood and achievement at Alpha Alpha.

ZETA BETA TAU

The past year has witnessed the progressively increasing strength of Pi chapter of Zeta Beta Tau. As the 55th year of its active participation in the events of LSU comes to a close, a retrospective glance of the year reveals many successful undertakings.

Excelling in all forms of campus activities, Pi chapter has received the admiration and respect of its 62 brother chapters throughout the country. Brothers participate in such activities as military honor societies, Union chairmanships, intercollegiate athletics and men's housing councils. One brother is keeper of the symbol of LSU spirit, Mike III.

Last year's football parties have been excelled only by the festive times held this year. The year was highlighted by the famous ZBTahiti Party which provided a worthy finale to a string of social events including the Christmas, Arab and Hillbilly Parties.

The past year has truly been one of many spirited occasions and great accomplishments. As ZBT's in their long and prominent history at LSU have strived to better their chapter, with a strong nucleus of men we shall continue to fight for those principals which the founding fathers sought.

In 1913, Alpha Epsilon Pi had its beginning with the uniting of thirteen college men in brotherhood as the Alpha Chapter. Since then, AEP's eighty-six chapters have made a strong international fraternity known for both social and scholastic achievement on college campuses.

March 8, 1964, marked the return of the Beta Deuteron Chapter to the LSU campus. The chapter, having been dormant here since 1952, is now planning, participating and growing. Testimony of this is the fact that fall semester shall see the chapter in a beautiful house on Fraternity Row. This is just one example of national support and our determination to expand.

After only one year as a colony and now a chapter, the brothers claim activeness in chairmanships of both campus and Union committees, as well as, memberships in Omicron Delta, Phi Eta Sigma and other honorary societies. Scholarship and brotherhood mingled with active participation in interfraternity athletics lends spirit and enthusiasm to other strictly social activities such as football parties and the Annual Orchid Semi-Formal Dance. These accomplishments and the prospects for an outstanding year stimulated in the new fraternity house make the chapter proud to be part of the LSU fraternity system.

Delta Sigma Phi social fraternity was founded on December 10, 1895, at the City College of New York. Beta Eta chapter at LSU was installed in 1930 and is now one of more than 100 active chapters throughout the United States. Dr. Bennet, our faculty advisor, was one of the charter members of the chapter and is now head of the zoology department here at LSU.

Through the years Delta Sigs have been members of such honorary organizations as Tau Beta Pi, Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Tau Sigma, and Phi Eta Sigma. The Delta Sigs have maintained their scholastic success through the Engineered Leadership Program, which is unique in the fraternity world.

Besides good grades, the Delta Sigs believe the college man should have a well-rounded social calendar. The major event held each year is the Carnation Ball. In addition, there is the Sailor's Ball held in the fall, numerous football parties and other social functions.

Our chapter is presently looking forward to its new fraternity house. Our Alumni Control Board is now working on the plans of the house which is situated by the lake. Beta Eta chapter of Delta Sigma Phi is looking forward to even greater success in leadership scholarship, and brotherhood this coming year.

Goals for the future include building a house and better public relations with other Greeks as Phi Psi moves ever closer to a permanent, significant status on campus.

The activities of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity in this its second year at LSU have focused on the colony's main goal: a charter.

Rush, the primary factor, was helped in the fall by national officers of Phi Kappa Psi. The colony has continued to grow throughout the semester while maintaining the founder's ideals of "men, not numbers."

The Phi Psi's continued to prosper with varied campus activities this year. These include participation in fraternity intramural sports, combined parties with other fraternities, and participation in various political, Student Government and Union committees.

The Louisiana Alpha Colony received an "Excellent" rating from its national director of scholarship for placing eighth on campus scholastically last year.

Parties will include a Founder's Day Banquet on February 19th, and a Jeff Duo party with our brother fraternity Phi Gamma Delta. Phi Psi has also elected their first sweetheart, Miss Phi Sigh, Cherry Chapman.

CLUBS

HILLEL

B'nai B'rith Hillel Counselorship is the representative Jewish student organization on campus. All Jewish students of the university are considered members.

Hillel's aim is to bring a more adequate knowledge of the Jewish faith and heritage to students through weekly Sabbath services and periodic religious and cultural discussions. The services, conducted and directed by the students, are held each Friday night at the Hillel Building. Prominent speakers highlight many services. Dr. Louis Rusoff serves as counselor.

ARAB CLUB

The LSU Arab Student Club was founded at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, in 1956. The club is a non-profit, cultural, and educational student organization.

The club promotes better understanding and stronger ties with the American people, and with various student organizations on campus. The members try to extend every possible aid and guidance to the Arab students attending LSU.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

The Christian Science Organization at LSU experienced a very successful school year. The completion of a $35,000 student center on Raphael Semmes Drive highlighted many years of devoted activity.

Each Thursday evening at 6:00, the organization held its testimonial meeting. Prior to the completion of the new student center, the members had gathered in the Barataria Room of the LSU Student Union. Other activities included the presentation of the film "Ambassadors for Christian Science at the University," and participation in the Union Activities Carnival.

The Christian Science group sponsored its annual lecture on March 4, 1964. The lecturer was Elbert R. Slaughter, C.S., member of the board of lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts. A visit by Mr. James W. Metzger, a representative of the College Organization Division of The Mother Church, was one of the highlights of the first semester.

Organization members are now making plans to attend the Sixth Biennial International Meeting for Christian Science college students to be held during the summer of 1965 in Boston, Massachusetts.

The annual Spring Water Show presented by the Bengalettes, the LSU synchronized swimming club, has become one of the most anticipated events on the Spring calendar.

Swimming skills and routines performed by graceful girls, accompanied by beautiful music, make these performances a great success. The theme of the 1964 Spring Water Show was "World's Fair on Water." Routines consisted of kimono-clad Geisha girls, Grecian goddesses, Hawaiian and fire dancers, Leprechauns, African natives, and French maidens.

The Bengalettes were organized in 1959 by nine girls, under the direction of LeOra Lipe. The club has now grown to a present membership of 40 girls. Weekly practices are held during the year for the purpose of learning stunts, strokes, and routines in preparation for the Spring Water Show.

Qualifications for membership are a 1.0 average and the performance of basic synchronized swimming skills. Tryouts are held twice annually at the LSU pool.

The aims of the club are to promote an interest in synchronized swimming, and to participate in and enjoy this sport.

Included in this year's activities are several speeches and discussions about the Arab World, with respect to its social life, its economy and its politics. On December 6, 1964, a joint Arab Club and International Club Dinner has been planned. Other ideas for the year include picnics for Arab and American students, and an Arab Club Easter Banquet.

The members of the Baptist Student Union are proud not only of their Spanish-style Student Center, but also of the fact that they are a union of students with the same beliefs. They are brought together by the spiritual aspects of their individual lives. Students are encouraged to participate in local Baptist churches, offering their services as they grow toward Christian maturity.

There are a variety of spiritual needs that the BSU can fulfill in its student-governed atmosphere, whether students come to receive from others or to give of themselves. Opportunities are offered for worship, study, mission work, and fellowships. A noon-day chapel service is presented each week, and many times distinguished evangelists and laymen come to speak to the group. Study opportunities are presented through seminars and regularly-scheduled Bible Study.

Members of the BSU carry mission activities to an orphanage for Negro children, a trade school for delinquent youths, and to the men in the local jail. Fellowships are always enjoyable, and members particularly delight in the joy of post-game open houses and the annual International Student Banquet. There is also a banquet in the program for summer students.

Away from the LSU campus, the BSU members sponsor two major events. The first of these events is a pre-school retreat, where preparations are made for the year's program with a spiritual emphasis. In the month following this retreat, there is a meeting of all Baptist students in the state of Louisiana at the Louisiana State Baptist Student Convention. At this convention, enriching messages and ideas are presented to the entire group.

The force making these individual opportunities meaningful comes from the spirit of the participants, all centered on Christianity.

The Baptist Student Union is composed of all students who are members or active in a Baptist Church. The BSU has been organized on the Louisiana State University campus since 1924. The Center was constructed in 1950 and remodeled in 1963. The guidance for the group comes from Mr. Frank Horton, Director. The plans and activities are made and carried out almost exclusively by the BSU student Executive Council of fourteen members and their various committees.

licity Chairman; Bob Cooper, Missions Chairman; Wayne Greenleaf, International Student Chairman; Paul Kitchens, Campus Relations Chairman; Don Hagan, Student Center Chairman.

Members of the BSU greatly admire and respect their able director, Mr. Frank Horton. Here he is seen opening his surprise birthday present from the students under his direction.

Jean Ledbetter, an active member of the LSU Baptist Student Union, is shown teaching the weekly lesson to her Sunday School Class at Blundon Home, an orphanage for Negro children.

The small BSU fish pond, surrounded by the lovely brick patio, is frequently surrounded by students who desire to meditate or just get together with other students.

Circle K, modeled on its sponsoring organization, the Kiwanis Club, seeks to perform services and develop activities of benefit to the campus and community. The motto of Circle K, "We Build," shows that Circle K is concerned with building for justice, liberty, democracy, and a better world in which to live.

Membership is based on leadership, moral character, and scholarship. It is open to all male students who have at least a 1.0 average and show an interest in the club's ideals of potential leadership and growth. The LSU Circle K Club is a part of Circle K International, comprising 563 clubs with a total membership of over 10,200 young men.

During the past year, the Circle K Club has participated in various campus activities and has also conducted several off-campus service projects.

The Circle K Club has once again stressed the need for safety on the college campus; and, for this emphasis on safety and precaution, the LSU Circle K Club was awarded the Single Service Award at the Louisiana, Mississippi, and West Tennessee District Convention of Circle K International.

A highlight of the year will be the International Convention to be held in Miami, Florida, during the first week in September, 1965. At this convention, members will be given the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with outstanding college men from other campuses across the nation and Canada.

Established in 1957, the Cuban Club was organized for the promotion of better understanding and stronger ties with the American students. This purpose is carried out through the various organizations, on and off campus, and through cultural and social activities.

This year, the Cuban Club held its annual Banquet and picnic, as well as a number of movies, panel discussions, freshman orientation programs, and the eagerly-awaited "fiestas." Members also participated in intramural basketball and softball championships, being especially proud of winning intramural softball for two consecutive years.

Club members are encouraged to participate in other extracurricular activities, holding positions of leadership in the LSU Union International Club, International Relations Committee, LSU Jaycees, Engineering Council, Dormitory Council, and several other professional societies and honorary fraternities.

The Club also co-operates with the International Student Office and the International Hospitality Foundation in many of their programs. Dr. Jane DeGrummond is the club's faculty advisor.

Take a mixture of Hootenannies, religious demonstration programs, talent shows, and a combination of varied programs of religious, social, and educational activities. Add to this a place to gather a variety of nationalities from all over the world, the Catholic Student Center. Combine with one part mirth and three parts friendship, and you have the makings of a real organization.

Who could possibly forget those crowded Sunday night masses, the rained-out picnics, the bridge marathons, and even sitting out the hurricane within the sturdy walls of the Catholic Student Center. These are only a few of the many activities sponsored by the LSU Newman Club. Most important of all, no matter what religion a person may profess, the Catholic Student Center can become for him a refuge from the mad, chaotic world of books and studies and problems.

PHI LAMBDA PI

Phi Lambda Pi, active on the LSU campus since 1935, is an organization composed of married women students. Its purpose is to encourage higher education among married women, increase social contacts, and provide further opportunities for the development of friendships among married women students. Its members share the common goal of a homemaking career and, at the same time, a quest for personal growth through education.

An honor group, it elects to membership only those who have demonstrated better-than-average scholastic ability. Phi Lambda Pi feels that intellectual stimulation and scholastic achievement can bring immediate benefit to the married woman, her family, and community.

The group has no "typical" member. One may be a bride; another, a career woman; or a grandmother brushing up on the history of art. They all recognize, however, that education is a continuous process that need not stop with marriage.

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Women's Recreation Association is to conduct and promote intramural and other recreational activities for all women students. Membership is open to all undergraduate and full-time graduate co-ed students enrolled in the University.

The coveted plaque, which is presented each year to the organization accumulating the greatest number of points during the year, is awarded at the annual Spring

Honors Day Convocation. These points are given in the various tournaments (basketball, tennis, volleyball, archery, softball, etc.) to each respective winner.

The W.R.A. Council is composed of representatives from each organization and the various sports chairmen. The faculty advisor for the Women's Recreation Association is Jan Thonsser.

Linda Bourgois, Mary Dimberg, Linda Latiolais, Cissy Holcombe, Lynn Nelson, Mary Fornea, Barbara Ridge, Marsha Reeves, Mary Camille Traweck, Carolyn Gill.

The Wesley Foundation is the university center of the Methodist Church at Louisiana State University. Its purpose is to bring the vitality of the Christian faith to bear upon the thought, work, and disciplines of the members of the university community. To fulfill this purpose, the Wesley Foundation conducts its activities in association with the Reily Memorial University Methodist Church. Together these two institutions, educational and pastoral, constitute the Methodist Church at work on the campus.

Recognizing that special disciplines are required in the vocation of being a Christian student, the Wesley Foundation provides the disciplines of study, thought, prayer, and service. In addition, it offers opportunities for social fellowship and personal counseling to the more than 2200 Methodist students on the campus.

The Sunday morning classes in religion, the weekly Wesley Forum and supper, the program of seminars in religion, the weekly service of Holy Communion, the numerous interest-reflection groups, and the special conferences and retreats are all included in Wesley Foundation's effort to make the Church relevant to the contemporary college student.

The Reverend Delton Pickering is campus minister at the LSU Wesley Foundation. The Reverend Douglas McLean and Mr. Wayne Richards are associates.

A scholar is always a student, and the highest aim of any student is to become a scholar. It is by his academic class that the student appears on the following pages. It is in his role of student that he attends the university and its classes; it is the perfection of this role that will bring him academic success. While he will remain a student to some degree for the rest of his life, it is while he is at the university that he must lay the foundation for all future learning experiences. It is during these days the student is allowed to explore the depths of his own personality sheltered from the institutions of office routine and suburban conformity. It is for the student this book was created and for him that Louisiana State University exists.
